THE CLAIM OF CLAYPOOL AND HARRISON.

By a joint resolution of the last General Assembly the claim of Messrs. Claypool and Harrison, for services rendered the State as attorneys in the case of Smith et al. vs. Shoemaker, Auditor of State, to enjoin the distribution of the Sinking Fund, under the act approved February 24, 1871, was referred to the Governor, Secretary and Treasurer of State, for settlement.

The history of this case is as follows: By the Legislature of this State of the years 1855 and 1857, in relation to the Sinking Fund in connection with the State debt, the office of Sinking Fund Commissioner was abolished, and the funds, notes, bonds, mortgages and effects of said fund were placed in the hands of the Auditor of State, with directions that it be invested in certain State bonds for a term, and then followed a period of years and there was no specified direction as to its investment, and the entire fund was left in the hands of the Auditor of State. By an act of February 24, 1871, this fund was directed to be distributed to the several counties of the State to be loaned by the Auditors and Treasurers of their respective counties at 8 per cent. interest, the proceeds arising from the interest on said funds to be applied to the Common School Fund. After the passage of this act, and before the distribution, actions were commenced in the Superior and Circuit Courts of Marion county, and a temporary injunction obtained, enjoining the officers charged with the distribution of this fund from distributing the same, as provided by the act aforesaid.

The then Attorney General of the State, Hon. Bayless W. Hanna, recognizing the magnitude of the case and the great interest involved, called to his assistance, the claimants, Messrs. Claypool and Harrison, to assist him in conducting the case on behalf of the State.

The cases pending in the Superior and Circuit Courts were consolidated into one in the Marion Circuit Court. Upon final hearing of the case in the Marion Circuit Court the injunction was made perpetual, on the ground that the act of February 24, 1871, was unconstitutional. From this decision an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court of the State, and upon final hearing in the Supreme Court the judgment of the Marion Circuit Court was reversed, and the act of February 24, 1871, held to be valid.

This being a brief history of the case, the question to be determined by us is, what were the services of these claimants reasonably worth in assisting the Attorney General in conducting this case in the Circuit and Supreme Courts. The sworn statements of the claimants as presented to us show that they were mainly chargeable with the preparing, arranging and conducting of the case from its commencement to its final hearing.

The amount involved aggregated over $650,000—the interest on this sum amounted to over $50,000 annually, which sum, so long as this fund remained undistributed, was being lost to the School Fund. In addition to this, the claimants presented the statements of Messrs. J. E. McDonald, J. W. Gordon and W. P. Fishback, who all testify that the services of the claimants were reasonably worth $4,000. After a careful consideration of all the facts, we came to the conclusion that there should be allowed the claimants the sum of $2,500 in full of their fees in this case.

(Signed.)

JAMES D. WILLIAMS, Governor.

B. C. SHAW, Treasurer of State.

JOHN E. NEFF, Secretary of State.

PROCLAMATIONS.

THE STATE OF INDIANA.

BY THOMAS A. HENDRICKS, Governor.

To the People of Indiana:

A PROCLAMATION OF THANKSGIVING.

THE STATE OF INDIANA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

The President of the United States has appointed Thursday, November thirtieth (30th), 1876, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God.

It is therefore recommended to the people of Indiana that they observe the day so appointed by giving thanks to God for his goodness to them during the closing year, and by asking a continuance of his favor and protection.

[SEAL.]

Given under the Seal of the State and the hand of the Governor, at Indianapolis, this thirteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, and of the State the sixtieth.

THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,
Governor of Indiana.

By the Governor:

JOHN E. NEFF,
Secretary of State.

A PROCLAMATION.

BY THE GOVERNOR.

Convening the Fiftieth General Assembly in Special Session, given March 5, 1877.

THE STATE OF INDIANA,

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

INDIANAPOLIS, March 5, 1877.

The General Assembly having failed to make adequate provisions for the expenses of the State Government during the ensuing two years, and to pass bills of importance remaining on the files of the two houses at the close of the session, ending with this day, it is the opinion of the Governor that the public welfare requires a brief special session for the completion of pending business; therefore,

I, James D. Williams, Governor of the State of Indiana, do hereby issue this my proclamation, and call upon the General Assembly of the State of Indiana to convene in special session on Tuesday, March 6th, 1877, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon.

Witness the Seal of the State and the signature of the Governor.

[SEAL.]

JAMES D. WILLIAMS,

Governor of Indiana.

By the Governor:

JOHN E. NEFF,

Secretary of State.

A PROCLAMATION.

BY THE GOVERNOR.

Announcing the Publication and Circulation of the Acts of 1877.

THE STATE OF INDIANA,

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

In pursuance of a provision of the Constitution and a requirement of the statute in such case made and provided, it is hereby announced and proclaimed that the laws passed at the fiftieth regular session of the General Assembly, which began on the 4th day of January, A. D. 1877, and also the laws passed at the special session thereof, which began on the 6th day of March, A. D. 1877, have been duly published and circulated in the several counties of the State by authority, and that the last county in which said acts were received and filed is the county of Pike, and the date of said reception and filing is the second day of July, 1877.

[SEAL.] Witness the Seal of the State, and the signature of the Governor, at Indianapolis, this 5th day of July, A. D. 1877.

JAMES D. WILLIAMS,
Governor of Indiana.

By the Governor:

JOHN E. NEFF,
Secretary of State.

A P R O C L A M A T I O N .

BY THE GOVERNOR.

Relative to certain Disturbances of the Peace by Striking Employes of Railroad Companies.

To the People of Indiana: Many disaffected employes of railroad companies doing business in this State have renounced their employments because of alleged grievances, and have conspired to enforce their demands by detaining trains of their late employers, seizing and controlling their property, intimidating their managers, prohibiting by violence their attempts to conduct their business, and driving away passengers and freight offered for transportation. The peace of community is seriously disturbed by these lawless acts. Every class of society is made to suffer. The comfort and happiness of many families not parties to the grievances are sacrificed. A controversy which belongs to our courts, or to the province of peaceful arbitration or negotiation, is made the excuse for an obstruction of trade and travel over the chartered commercial highways of our State. The commerce of the entire country is interfered with, and the reputation of our community is threatened with dishonor among our neighbors. This disregard of law and the rights and privileges of our citizens and those of sister States, can not be tolerated. The machinery provided by law for the adjustment of private grievances must be used as the only resort against debtors, individual or corporate. The process of the courts is deemed sufficient for the enforcement of civil remedies, as well as the penalties of the criminal code, and must be executed equally in each case. To the end that the existing combination be dissolved and destroyed in its lawless form, I invoke the aid of all the law-abiding citizens of our State. I ask that they denounce and condemn this infraction of public order, and endeavor to dissuade these offenders against the peace and dignity of our State from further acts of lawlessness.

To the Judiciary: I appeal for the prompt and rigid administration of justice in proceedings of this nature.

To the Sheriffs of the several counties: I commend a careful study of the duties imposed upon them by statute which they have sworn to discharge. I admonish each to use the full power of his county in the preservation of order and the suppression of breaches of the peace, assuring them of my hearty co-operation with the power of the State at my command when satisfied that occasion requires its exercise.

To those who have arrayed themselves against government, and are subverting law and order and the best interests of society by the waste and destruction of property, the derangement of trade and the ruin of all classes of labor, I appeal for an immediate abandonment of their unwise and unlawful confederation. I convey to them the voice of the law, which they can not afford to disregard. I trust that its admonition may be so promptly heeded that a resort to extreme measures will be unnecessary, and that the authority of the law and the dignity of the State, against which they have so grievously offended, may be restored and duly respected hereafter.

Given at Indianapolis, this twenty-sixth day of July, 1877.

Witness the Seal of the State and the signature
[SEAL.] of the Governor.

JAMES D. WILLIAMS,
Governor of Indiana.

JOHN E. NEFF,
Secretary of State.

INTRODUCTION.

STATE OF INDIANA,
OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE,
INDIANAPOLIS, November 1, 1877.

To His Excellency, JAMES D. WILLIAMS,

Governor of the State of Indiana:

I have the honor to submit for your examination and consideration, this, my third annual report, as provided by law. This report embraces the receipts and expenditures, and the balances in the treasury at the close of business October 31, 1877, for the fiscal year beginning November 1, 1876, and closing October 31, 1877, of the general fund, common school fund, school revenue for tuition, college fund principal, college fund interest, swamp land fund, fund of unclaimed estates, three per cent. fund, and sinking fund, excess of bids. The several funds are taken up in their order, and the subordinate accounts of the receipts into, and disbursements therefrom given, whereby you can readily see the sources of the revenues, and the expenditures of the State government. For future reference and convenience, I have subdivided the expenditures from the general revenue fund of the treasury, into the following classifications of the cost of the State government, showing the expenditures for administrative, judicial, benevolent, penal, educational, agricultural and horticultural, public printing, State Board of Equalization, State debt principal, State debt interest, revenues refunded, specific appropriation, miscellaneous and contingent, and cost of legislation. By this subdivision, economy may be studied on any branch of the cost of the State government without confusion, and the legislature remedy the evil, if there be any. The general appropriation act of the last session of the general assembly relieved this office of some responsibility by repealing all statutory appropriations, and appropriating stipulated amounts for specific services. This provision should remain the law as a protection to the Auditor of State, who, under the old law, had to assume judicial powers in construing statutory appropriations. Such an appropriation act should carefully follow the suggestions of the Auditor of State in his recommendations of State expenses for the ensuing years. This not being a legislative year, it is unnecessary to enter into the details, at length, of the appropriation act. Some of the appropriations have been in excess of the actual expenditures, others insufficient to meet the demands of the public service. Some embarrassment has been experienced in this office on account of the latter class of stipulated appropriations being insufficient to meet the demands of public necessity. There can be no economy in embarrassing any branch of our State government by insufficient appropriations to meet its economical administration. There are classes of expenditures governed by circumstances of the future, that a legislature cannot foresee. The expense of sheriff's mileage is governed by the number of criminals convicted in the various courts, and sentenced to the State prisons. Judiciary special varies in proportion to the changes of venue. The enforcement of the laws of the State may be seriously interfered with by an inadequate appropriation for services of special judges or attorneys, called to hold court by reason of change of venue from the regular judge for various causes, that must arise in a State like ours, where circuit judges are elected by the people, and their term of office so short. A judge selected from the bar where he has been practicing for years, is necessarily rendered incompetent to try many of the cases on his docket, by reason of previous employment. In such cases the rights of litigants should be protected by ample provision for a speedy trial, that justice may be administered "speedily, and without delay." I recommended in my last report an appropriation of eight thousand dollars for special judicial services for the fiscal year of 1878, and the legislature appropriated five thousand dollars, and increased the pay for such services, from five dollars per day under the old law, to eight dollars per day under the new act, "burning the candle, as it were, at both ends." The result of which will be an exhaustion of the appropriation before one-third of the year has expired. The abuse of an appropriation for special services by exchanging circuits, (Judge A. holding Judge

B.'s court, and vice versa, both judges drawing special services,) is the exception to the rule, and should have been provided against in the act; but the salary of a judge, in cases of change of venue, should not stop by reason of incompetency to hold his own court, and a sufficient appropriation should have been made to meet the requirements of these circumstances.

In my annual report to the legislature twelve months ago, I suggested several amendments that experience had taught me would be beneficial in reference to the assessment of property and collection of taxes and other matters pertaining to this office. A majority of them were taken up, and the recommendation complied with by enacting laws and amendments in conformity therewith, which was not only a compliment, but beneficial to the State. Among other recommendations adopted was that of requiring all the institutions of the State to conform to the financial fiscal year of the Auditor and Treasurer of State, in order that their reports might correspond with those of the State. It was further suggested, that the original bills for the current expenses and maintenance of the institutions should be filed monthly or quarterly in this office, that the committees of the legislature could readily examine the same, and verify the reports made by the trustees and boards of the various institutions. The officers of all the institutions have cheerfully and faithfully complied with this requirement of the legislature. The penal institutions come under the same rule of reporting original itemized vouchers, to be approved by the Auditor of State, that the benevolent institutions do. The State, in my judgment, (and the records of each of the institutions for the punishment of crime justifies the remark) is fortunate in having wardens and superintendents honest and humane. Loss of integrity, petit and grand larceny, a disregard of law, and general demoralization, in many instances the result of necessity, the offspring of hard times, is filling up our penal institutions to overflowing. Yet filled as they are, good discipline, economical government is evidenced in all these monthly reports. Defalcations have occurred on the part of a few county treasurers during the year. In each instance the proper suits have been instituted to secure the State and counties against the defaulting officers and their bondsmen. The land department, created in this office by the legislature, has been partially organized and arranged, the General Government having transferred the records pertaining to the Register and Receiver's office of Indiana. There is also a portion of the records of the Secretary of State's office now in my possession. The records of the Wabash and Erie Canal are in the possession of a receiver appointed by the court, and can only be secured by an enforcement of the act through legal proceedings. The legislature appropriated eight thousand dollars to build an addition to the building occupied by the State officers, under the supervision of the Governor, Auditor, and Treasurer of State. Subsequently an act was passed providing for the erection of a new State House, and it has not been thought advisable to expend the appropriation, or any part thereof, in building additions to the present State building that could not be made sufficiently commodious to accommodate all the officers of State. Upon the completion of the new State House, the legislature will, in all probability, sell the building now occupied by the State officers, and the expenditure for any addition would virtually be a loss to the State. No warrants have been issued against the appropriation.

This report embraces statements of the condition, on the 31st day of October, 1877, of the various banks organized under the statute providing for banks of discount and deposit; also a statement of the condition of the "old free banks" at the close of the last fiscal year. There have been no transactions during the year in reference to the old free banks, the circulation of the same having almost entirely disappeared. There is also embraced in this report a tabular statement showing the gross receipts, losses paid, and tax paid by each fire and life insurance company transacting business in the State. The business of the fire and life companies are shown separately, and are given for the six months ending January 1, and July 1, 1877. Also, a statement showing separately the total receipts, losses paid, and tax paid by fire and life companies for the year, and the total of receipts, losses paid, and tax paid by both fire and life companies for the year.

It also includes the proceedings and record of the State Board of Equalization, a complete list of the borrowers of the college fund principal, giving date of loan and the amount loaned to each, and finally the settlements with the Auditor and Treasurer of State with the county treasurers of the ninety-two counties.

Respectfully submitted,

E. HENDERSON,

Auditor of State.

SALE OF COLLEGE FUND LANDS.

At the sale of College Fund Lands, January 15, 1877, on account of delinquent interest, the lands mortgaged to secure the following loans were bid in by the State, for the benefit of the fund.

Loan No. 873, for $500, on lots 15, 16 and 17, in John A. Brouse & Co.'s subdivision of lot 7 and part of lot 6 of Robinson & Voorhees' addition to the city of Indianapolis, mortgaged by John A. Brouse, September 24, 1865.

Loan No. 890, for $500, on lot 7 of Robinson & Voorhees' subdivision of all that part of the southeast quarter of section 5, township 15, north of range 4 east, lying north of the center of the national road, containing 2 51-100 acres, mortgaged by Charles W. Brouse, February 24, 1866.

Loan No. 988, for $500, on northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 23, township 4 south, of range 1 east, containing forty acres, in Crawford county, mortgaged by William Harvey, October 1, 1872. At the sale E. O. Thalman bid in this land, but afterward refused to pay for the land or accept a deed from the State, hence the title to this land is now in the State.

Loan No. 1,011, for $500, on lots 29 and 30 in Allen's second north addition to the city of Indianapolis, mortgaged by James O. Woodruff, April 7, 1877.

Loan No. 992, for $350, on the northeast fourth of the northwest quarter of section 17, township 8 north, of range 10 east, except five acres square in the southeast corner of the above described forty acres of land, supposed to leave thirty-five acres of land, more or less, in Ripley county, mortgaged by E. L. Davis, August 8, 1873.

The amount loaned on lands bid in by the State as described above was $2,350. These lands can be purchased at private sale on application to the Auditor of State, the purchaser paying the amount of the original loan, together with accrued interest, damages and costs.

CITY OF INDIANAPOLIS.

STARKE COUNTY.

(Erroneously termed to be in Newton County in Act.)

South half of northeast quarter of section 15, township 34, north of range 2 west.

(In said Act erroneously described as in Marion County.)

CLARK COUNTY.

One acre in outlot No. 28, Clarksville, Clark county, for graveyard lot for the State Prison South, conveyed by Jane Keigwin.

Of the above described tracts of land ordered to be sold, the record shows the following to have been sold.

Southeast quarter of southeast quarter of section 6, township 30, north of range 3 west, sold November 3, 1875, for $320, to Daniel Snapp.

WHITE COUNTY.

(Erroneously described in the Act as being in Jasper County.)

East half of southwest quarter of section 18, township 25, north of range 5 west.

West half of southeast quarter of section 18, township 25, north of range 5 west.

STARKE COUNTY.

South half of northeast quarter of section 15, township 34, north of range 2 west.

PUTNAM COUNTY.

Southwest quarter of northwest quarter of section 3, township 16, north of range 5 west.

I would further suggest that the following lands, to-wit: Northeast quarter of northeast quarter of section 1, township 12, north of range 7 west, situate in Clay County, Indiana, and in said Act described as being in Marion County, was appraised jointly with 100 acres in southeast quarter of section 1, township 15, north of range 2 east, in Marion County, at and for the sum of $14,000.00. As these tracts are situated in different counties, and not adjacent to each other, and as it would not be desirable for the purchaser to purchase both tracts, there certainly should be separate appraisements thereof.

As a portion of said lands are appraised at figures greatly in excess of their present cash value, would it not be prudent to have a re-appraisement of all of the said several tracts?

In this department there has been issued during the year ending October 31, 1877, the following patents, viz.:

PROCEEDINGS

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

1877.

OFFICE OF THE AUDITOR OF STATE,
INDIANAPOLIS, June 18, 1877.

Agreeably to an act of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, entitled "An act to provide for a uniform assessment of property and for the collection and return of taxes thereon," approved December 21, 1872, the Board of Equalization, within and for the State of Indiana, convened at the office of the Auditor of State and organized as required by law.

The following members were present: James D. Williams, Governor; Isaac P. Gray, Lieutenant Governor; John E. Neff, Secretary of State; E. Henderson, Auditor of State, and B. C. Shaw, Treasurer of State.

The members of the Board and John H. Piercy, Deputy Auditor of State, as Secretary, took the oath prescribed by law, as follows:

We, and each of us, do solemnly swear that we will support the Constitution of the United States, and of the State of Indiana, and that we will faithfully and impartially discharge our duties as members of the State Board of Equalization to the best of our ability.

(Signed.)

JAMES D. WILLIAMS,
ISAAC P. GRAY,
JOHN E. NEFF,
E. HENDERSON,
B. C. SHAW.

I, John H. Piercy, do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and of the State of Indiana, and that I will faithfully perform my duties as Secretary of the State Board of Equalization, to the best of my ability.

JOHN H. PIERCY.

STATE OF INDIANA, }
MARION COUNTY. } ss:

Before me, Will. A. Peelle, jr., a Notary Public, in and for said county and State of Indiana, personally appeared the within named James D. Williams, Isaac P. Gray, John E. Neff, E. Henderson and B. C. Shaw, members of the State Board of Equalization, and John H. Piercy, Secretary of the State Board of Equalization, and were duly sworn according to law, and subscribed their names hereunto.

[SEAL.]

Witness my hand and Notarial seal this 18th day of June, 1877.

(Signed.)

WILL. A. PEELE, JR.,
Notary Public.

On motion of Mr. Henderson, Governor Williams was chosen President of the Board, and on motion of Mr. Neff, Isaac P. Gray, Lieutenant Governor, was selected as Chairman in the absence of the President.

J. H. Piercy, Secretary of the Board, then stated that schedules of property of all the different railroads in the State had been reported to the Auditor of State, with the exception of the Bedford, Springville, Owensburg & Bloomfield, Cairo & Vincennes, Bloomfield, Chicago & Illinois, Cincinnati, Lafayette & Chicago, Cincinnati, Richmond & Fort Wayne, Chicago, Danville & Vincennes, Lafayette, Muncie & Bloomington, Louisville, New Albany & St. Louis Air Line, and White Water Valley.

The Secretary was directed by the Board to notify these roads to make reports at once.

By an act of the last Legislature, the duty of assessing capital stock of local corporations was transferred from the State Board to the County Boards of Equalization.

The Board decided that their legal duty now consisted in assessing and equalizing railroad property only.

On motion of Mr. Neff, it was ordered that the Board adjourn till Tuesday, June 26th inst., at 2 P. M., in order to give the delinquent roads time to make their reports, and at which time the Board would hear statements from officers of the different roads in the interest of their respective companies.

Board then adjourned to meet at the above designated time.

TUESDAY, June 26, 1877, 2 P. M.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Members present, Williams, Gray, Neff, Henderson and Shaw.

The day was spent in hearing statements of railroad officers as to their claims of reduction in valuation of their roads from that of last year.

On motion, the Board adjourned to meet the following day, at 10 A. M.

WEDNESDAY, June 27, 1877, 10 A. M.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Members present, Gray, Neff, Henderson and Shaw.

The question of reducing the assessment from that of last year was discussed at length, and the conclusion was reached that, inasmuch as the assessment one year ago was fixed on a comparative basis, with the assessment of all real estate assessed two years ago, no reduction could be made, as such a procedure would destroy the equalization of the burdens of taxation.

On motion, Board adjourned to meet July 5, at 2 P. M.

THURSDAY, July 5, 1877, 2 P. M.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Members present, Shaw, Henderson and Neff.

The Governor and Lieutenant Governor not being able to be present, Board adjourned till following day at 10 A. M.

FRIDAY, July 6, 1877, 10 A. M.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Members all present.

Railroad reports were taken up and examined in detail, and relative values discussed.

Board adjourned to meet Wednesday, July 11, 1877, at 2 P. M.

WEDNESDAY, July 11, 1877, 2 P. M.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Members all present.

The day was spent in equalizing the assessment on the basis of the assessment of 1876.

Board adjourned to meet the following day, at 10 A. M.

THURSDAY, July 12, 1877, 10 A. M.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

All the members present.

Mr. Shaw offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the assessment of the side track be the same per cent. of the main track as fixed last year.

On motion of Mr. Neff, the Secretary of the Board was directed to record and tabulate the following assessments of the different railroads in the State as the value fixed by the said Board for the purpose of taxation for the year 1877, and as soon as said assessment was recorded and tabulated, the Auditor of State was authorized to call the Board together for the purpose of examining the result of their labor.

Board then adjourned to meet on call of the Auditor of State.

REPORT.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT OF INDIANA,

INDIANAPOLIS, November 1, 1877.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY,

JAMES D. WILLIAMS, Governor:

In compliance with the laws of the State of Indiana, I have the honor to make the following report of the financial transactions of this department for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1877.

The General Appropriation Act, approved March 10, 1877, making provision for the support of the State Government, and her several benevolent, judiciary, penal and educational institutions, is full and complete, providing wherever possible the exact amount of money that is necessary to expend for each particular branch of the public service, and wisely limiting the amount in all cases where the definite sum can not be ascertained in advance of expenditure. So comprehensive and general are the objects of the appropriations, that with the allowances made the State Board for expenses of the contingent fund, every department and interest of the public service has been provided for, with the limits and requirements clearly specified, and but two or three objects not fully and amply provided.

The earnings of the various institutions were appropriated to their support, which, heretofore, in some cases, the officials were compelled to pay out for current expenses, without clear warrant of law, and where the receipts were insufficient for that purpose no provisions were made by law for their liquidation—thus allowing the support of the institutions to become a debt against the State, as in the case of the Southern Prison, much to the discredit of the State.

By the wise provisions of this act, and the provisions of the specific appropriations to pay these debts, the financial condition of all the institutions of the State have been corrected.

To show the workings of the General Appropriation Act during the seven months that it has been in force, beginning April 1, and ending October 31, 1877, I have made a statement of the appropriation accounts for that period. There were considerable sums of money disbursed during these seven months in payment of service, or accounts rendered, that belonged to the previous appropriation year, as well as receipts from counties on account of clothing, and maintenance accounts, that had been advanced by the several institutions out of their previous appropriations for current expenses. Without allowing the institutions credit for the amount refunded they would be robbed of that amount of their funds, and their accounts would appear overdrawn, when in truth they were not.

The system of keeping accounts and numbering receipts and warrants consecutively, as required by law, necessarily threw the old and new payments together, interlacing the accounts of the previous year with the new appropriation year in several of the first months. Consequently, to show fully the workings of the new act with the correct balances of the appropriation accounts at the end of the seven months appropriation year, it became necessary to arbitrarily divide the accounts differently from the way they appear on the face of the ledger. Therefore, the amounts paid out on these accounts, as reported in the seven months' statement, will not balance with the Auditor's and Treasurer's published monthly statements of the expenditures of the general fund, nor with the monthly statement of receipts and disbursements accompanying this report.

Appropriations for salaries and other purposes, where the exact amount required can be determined by the Legislature, can not lapse at the end of the appropriation year, simply because the creditor or employe of the State fails to demand his money. Salaries are by law payable quarterly, and January, April, July and October first, of each year, is definitely designated as the date when quarters or fractional quarters are due. Warrants can not issue for regular salaries until the end of the quarter. It follows that service for the month of October can not be paid during that fiscal or appropriation year; therefore, balances "unexpended and subject to draft," in the statement of appropriation accounts, merely represent salaries due and unpaid; so does other fixed amounts.

Where the amount of the funds necessary to pay for the service, office or institution is an unknown quantity, and the Legislature appropriates a given sum, "or as much thereof as may be necessary," to be drawn under the restrictions of the law, then the amount absolutely expended or allowed by the board of control or party charged with the supervision of the expenditure, for the time or service named, and no more, is the amount appropriated by the act, provided always that it must not exceed the gross amount named in the act.

But a reasonable time ought to be given after the expiration of the year for payments to be made. Boards of revision may allow bills and furnish the creditor with certified vouchers, but they can not compel their immediate presentation. Therefore balances should be carried to the credit of appropriation accounts for the payment of debts actually made during the time for which the appropriation was made, but not available to pay debts contracted after the time specified in the appropriation has expired.

For these reasons I have been very careful in making up my tabular statement, showing the condition of the appropriation accounts for the seven months, general, and the specific appropriations, and I believe the balances there set forth are correct.

The total net receipts of the State Treasury during the year, from all sources, were $3,148,656.97; including the balance November 1, 1876, the available funds of the State for the year were $3,725,822.71.

The net cash disbursements for the year, for all purposes, were $3,320,519.44, leaving a balance in the treasury, October 31, 1877, of $405,303.27, of which $269,237.47 belongs to the General Fund.

There is yet due and subject to draft on the general and specific appropriations for the year 1877, the sum of $158,338.54, which, with the expenditures of November and December, are a charge against this balance in the General Fund; however, a portion of the specific appropriations will be left, after the completion of some of the State improvements now under contract; therefore, it now appears that the State will not be embarrassed after paying all the expenditures chargeable against the year.

For a full detail of the financial operations of this department, I beg to refer you to the accompanying exhibits and tables, arranged in the following order:

† Deduct charge against Blind Asylum Appropriation.....

* Deduct overdraft of Insane Hospital.....

EXPLANATION NOTES.

A. In turning in the earnings of the Prison, the cash received from the State, to this amount, was included in the receipts, and consequently became a duplicate debt. That amount is therefore added as a credit to the appropriation, to balance such duplicate charges for current expenses.

B. This balance is caused for the same reasons given for A:

C. This credit arises on account of the amount collected from counties due March 31, 1877, and belonging to the old appropriation year, but collected during the new. Three thousand dollars of this collection was used to pay old debts of the Institution, and the balance is held for a like purpose, if the State is held liable on claims now contesting.

D. This appropriation was made for $18,000 for ten months, beginning January 1, 1877. The balance carried forward represents the amount left at April 1 of the three months' proportion of the total appropriation, the most of which was consumed in the payment of debts previously incurred by the Institution.

* It is proper to state that while the Insane Hospital's account appears overdrawn, it is true that several thousand dollars of its appropriation has been advanced for clothing for inmates during the seven months, and will not be refunded until the next May settlements with County Treasurers.

OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE,
INDIANAPOLIS, January 14, 1878.

The foregoing statement of figures, so far as they relate to moneys which passed through the State Treasury, are in the aggregate correct.

E. HENDERSON,
Auditor of State.

REMARKS.

I shall reserve the usual suggestions and recommendations concerning our schools for my biennial report to the legislature next to convene.

I desire, however, at this time, to make a brief report concerning the progress I have made in the

CODIFICATION OF THE SCHOOL LAWS.

On the 5th day of March, 1877, the Indiana House of Representatives passed the following RESOLUTION.

"Resolved, That the state superintendent of public instruction, be and the same is hereby instructed to codify the school laws of the state, with such alterations and amendments as will make the laws harmonious and compact, and report the same to the house of representatives at the [meeting] of the next general assembly, provided the same shall be done without cost to the state."

I certify that the foregoing resolution passed the house, March 5, 1877. Witness my signature, this 6th day of March, 1877.

[Signed]

CYRUS T. NIXON,
Principal Clerk.

By the terms of this resolution it became my duty not only to codify the school laws, but also to make such alterations and amendments as will make the laws harmonious and compact. Believing the work to be of great importance to the State, and considering the resolution of the house of representatives to be the latest expression of its will in regard to the duties of this office, I have cheerfully undertaken the task, although it will nearly double my work during the entire year, and require the postponement of other but possibly less important duties.

The preliminary work necessary to the proper codification of the laws has already been done. I have carefully examined,

1. The school law as it stood at the last codification in 1865.
2. The amendments made thereto.
3. The new school acts passed by the legislature.
4. The supreme court decisions on questions raised under the school law.
5. The opinions given by the attorney general upon questions submitted to him by this department and by school officers throughout the State.
6. The opinions upon the school law made by this department since 1865, and
7. The decisions made by the supreme courts of other states, so far as the same were made upon common law principles or upon school statutes similar to those of our own State.

Since the revision of the school law in 1865, it has been amended twenty-seven times, seven supplemental sections have been added, and twenty-two new school acts have been passed. Thus the law has become a piece of patch-work. The law by which our schools are organized and managed interests directly far more persons than any other, possibly more than all other laws. It should be one of the simplest on our statute books. It is, in fact, one of the most complicated and one that is most difficult of interpretation. In many cases it is impossible to tell what sections are in force; in others, the language is so ambiguous that it is difficult to interpret it; and in others, the law is contradictory.

I have not supposed it to be my duty to make a new school law, or to change our school system in any particular, but rather to rewrite the law, so as to make it in harmony with the decisions of the courts and with the interpretations placed upon it by this department; to render what is now ambiguous, clear; and to harmonize what is now contradictory. It will thus be seen that the preliminary study was an absolute necessity.

This work has brought together a large mass of valuable information in regard to school law and the common law principles which have been promulgated by the courts in relation thereto. It covers several hundred pages of manuscript, and will probably make two hundred pages of printed matter. I shall at no distant day present this material in such form that the school officers of the State can have access to it.

Of the hundreds of difficult questions which arise in interpreting the school law, I here state a few, which may serve to indicate the character of the others, viz:

1. Great embarrassment arises from the fact that there are so many different school years established by the school laws. The school year proper commences July 1. The county superintendents report progress of their schools for the year ending September 1. The trustees' financial reports, which are condensed by the county superintendents and sent to the state superintendent of public instruction, are for the year ending September 1. School directors are elected for the year ending the first Saturday in October. The trustees' financial reports to the commissioners are for the year ending on the first Monday after the second Tuesday in October. The report of taxes collected for school purposes is for the year ending November 1. The report of interest on the school fund is for the year ending November 15. The state superintendent makes his annual report for the year ending when, nobody knows. The state superintendent assumes the duties of his office for the two years ending March 14. Township trustees, who act as school trustees, assume their duties for the two years ending the first Monday in April. The county superintendent's report of the number and names of teachers licensed is made for the year ending May 31. The county superintendents are elected for the two years ending the first Monday in June. School trustees in cities and towns are elected, each for three years, ending at the first meeting of the city or town council in the month of June. The report of the commissioners concerning the condition of the school fund and the additions thereto, is made for the year ending at the first meeting of the county commissioners in June.

Some of these differences are unavoidable, but many of them are without apparent reason. They certainly have a tendency to produce great confusion in the administration of the schools.

2. The liquor law of March 17, 1875, provides that the proceeds of the licenses issued by county authorities shall "be paid into the school fund of the county in which such licenses are obtained." There is no county school fund, each county holds a part of the common school fund of the state. If the proceeds of the licenses were paid into this fund, it would become a part of the permanent school fund, and the interest thereon would be distributed all over the state. It was evidently the intention of the legislature that the proceeds of the liquor licenses in a county should inure to the benefit of the children in that specific county.

It is supposed that the legislature intended to use the term "revenue" instead of the term "fund." An opinion to this effect has been given by this department, but the matter should be placed beyond controversy by the language of the law.

3. The question "Who is a voter at a school meeting?" has been a puzzling one for several years. Section 26 of the school law provides "that at such school meetings all taxpayers of the district shall be entitled to vote, except married women and minors." This seems plain enough to a person who does not understand the school law, but what is a school district? A school district has no determinable geographical boundaries. The only place in the school law from which an approximate answer to the question can be obtained, is found in section 14, which provides that on taking the annual enumeration "[The trustee] shall inquire of each person whose name he so lists to which school he or she desires to be attached, and such persons upon making their selection shall be considered as forming the school district of the school selected, and none shall be allowed thereafter to attach themselves to or have the privilege of any other school but by the consent of the trustee and for good cause shown." This would seem to limit the voters at school meetings to those who were enumerated. Such was evidently not the intention of the legislature, although the attorney general has been forced by a strict construction of the law to so decide. The law formerly gave taxpayers who did not have charge of children of school age the right to become enumerated, and thus become voters at school meetings. If this provision were re-enacted, I think the intention of the legislature would be realized.

4. Section 1 of an act approved March 14, 1877, reads as follows:

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That all sums of money now remaining in the hands of the Township Trustees, arising from surplus dog-tax fund, shall be, upon the taking effect of this act, placed to the credit of the Tuition Fund of such township, and shall be expended as other tuition funds of the township are expended. The Township Trustees of the several townships in the State are hereby authorized to pay the same to School Trustees of incorporated towns or cities their proportion pro rata according to the enumeration for school purposes within such township."

In interpreting this statute, several important questions arise. Prior to its passage the surplus dog-tax held by any township trustee on the first day of March each year was required to be paid into the tuition fund of such township, and no part of such surplus dog-tax could, by law, be paid to a city or town school board. If the township trustees did their duty under the former law, no surplus dog-tax remained in their hands on the approval of the act of March 14, 1877. If they had not done their duty, and such surplus did remain in their hands, it is evident that the legislature intended that the cities and towns should share in the distribution of such surplus. But there is no repealing clause in the act of March 14, 1877, and the strict letter of it, namely, "that all sums of money now remaining in the hands of township trustees," i. e., on March 14, 1877, has no reference to the year 1878, or any subsequent year. It thus becomes a serious question whether the trustees should be governed in their future distribution by the act of March 14, 1877, or by the former act. There are also one or two other questions which will readily suggest themselves upon reading section 1 of the act as quoted above.

5. Clause 19 of section 1 of an act approved March 1, 1877, describing the powers and duties of the civil officers of incorporated towns, reads as follows: "And said board of trustees shall have power to levy and collect annual taxes, not exceeding thirty cents on the hundred dollars valuation, on all property subject by law to taxation for the support of town schools within their said corporation." The board of trustees referred to in this act is, beyond question, the board of civil trustees of the town, and not the board of school trustees. The school law already provides for the election of school trustees in incorporated towns, and gives them authority to levy a tax for the purpose of building and repairing school houses. Indeed, by the school law, it is the duty of the school trustees exclusively to take charge of such matters. There is no repealing section in the act from which the above nineteenth clause was taken. Was it the intention of the legislature to abridge the duties of the school trustees of incorporated towns and to require the civil trustees to perform the duties so cut off; or was it its intention that the school trustees should still have power to levy a tax for special school purposes, to build school houses and maintain schools in them, and that the civil trustees of a town should also have power to levy another tax and build other school houses, and thus maintain another school system? It is impossible to answer this question by reading the statute.

6. Section 3 of an act approved March 8, 1873, provides, among other things, that persons residing outside a town or city in which certain bonds have been issued for school purposes, "and electing to be transferred to such town or city for educational purposes, or who shall send their children to a school taught in such building, shall, with their property, be liable to such tax as if they resided in such city or town, on all property owned by said person in the township where such city or town is located." By a previous statute a general system of transfers of persons for school purposes has been established, by which it is universally the case that when a person is transferred from one corporation to another—for example, from corporation "A" to corporation "B," the property of the person so transferred, which is situated in corporation "A," is taxed for school purposes exclusively for the benefit of corporation "B." All of the property of the person so transferred that is not situated in corporation "A," is taxed for the benefit of the corporation in which it is situated. Now, refer to the part of section 3 quoted above, and suppose that the city "B" was created out of a part of township "C," and that a person was transferred to the city from township "A." It is evident that the property of the transferred person, situated within the township in which he lives, is, by the new rule, not taxed for the benefit of the city, and that whatever of property he may have situated in township "C," in which he does not live, is taxed for the benefit of the city. This is a violation not only of the rule of justice, but of the general law governing transfers all over the State. A slight change in the phraseology of the part of section 3, quoted above, would be sufficient to make it in harmony with the spirit of the law.

7. By section 6 of an act approved March 8, 1873, it was made the duty of county superintendents "to examine the dockets, records and accounts of the clerk of the courts, county auditor, county commissioners, justices of the peace, prosecuting attorney, and mayors of cities," for certain purposes. Section 7 of the same act required all these officers to open their books, records, etc., to the inspection of the county superintendent, and provided that when the county superintendent did find that any of these officers had neglected or refused to collect and pay over interest, fines, forfeitures, licenses, or other claims due the school fund, etc., he should institute suit in the name of the State of Indiana for the recovery of the same. By an act of March 9, 1875, the legislature repealed, or attempted to repeal, section 6, as recited above, but it did not attempt to repeal section 7. Thus the officers were required to open their books to the inspection of the county superintendent. It was not, however, the duty of the superintendent to inspect the books, but when he did inspect them and found evidences of delinquencies, it was made his duty to commence suit against the delinquents. The presumption is that it was the intention of the legislature to strike out both section 6 and section 7. I think there is no one thing in our school legislation that has caused more confusion than this.

8. By section 121 of the general school law, approved March 6, 1865, the state superintendent is charged with a "general superintendence of the business relating to the common schools of the state, and of the school funds and school revenues set apart and appropriated for their support." Section 3 of the same act, instructs the state superintendent as follows: "He shall at any time, when he discovers, from the report, or otherwise, that there is a deficit in the amount collected for want of prompt collection, or otherwise, direct the attention of the board of county commissioners and the county auditor to the fact, and said board of commissioners are hereby authorized and required to provide for such deficit in their respective counties." Section 126 of this same act provides as follows: "He shall exercise such supervision over the school funds and revenues as may be necessary to ascertain their safety, and secure the preservation and application to their proper object, and cause to be instituted, in the name of the State of Indiana, for the use of the proper fund or revenue, all suits necessary for the recovery of any portion of said funds or revenues. * * * *"

Section 6 of an act approved March 12, 1873, as amended by an act approved March 9, 1875, provides as follows: "Such [county] superintendent shall see that the full amount of interest on the school fund is paid and apportioned, and when there is a deficit of interest of any school fund, or loss of any school fund or revenue by the county, that proper warrants are issued for the reimbursement of the same. * * * *"

In the act of 1875 there is a repealing clause. The question arises, does the act giving the county superintendent's authority, repeal the sections giving the state superintendent authority over the school funds, or do state superintendent and county superintendents have concurrent jurisdiction? These are important questions, as they involve the supervision of over four millions of dollars of school funds, and of the collection of $375,000 of interest thereon annually. I think it is impossible for the county superintendents to carry out the provisions of section six. They have not the necessary information. The county superintendents might be authorized to see that the moneys apportioned by the state superintendent were properly distributed and accounted for by the county officials. This is a duty the county superintendents can perform; the other they can not perform.

9. Township trustees who are ex-officio school trustees were formerly elected in October. The law required them to make their final settlements with the commissioners on the first Monday after the second Tuesday in October. The trustees will, however, be elected hereafter on the first Monday in April, but the law requiring the trustees to make their annual settlements with the commissioners in October remains unchanged. Now, shall the outgoing trustees retain their books, papers, vouchers and accounts until they can make their annual settlements with the commissioners in October, or shall they turn them over to their successors as soon as they qualify, and before the final reports are made? Neither way is the proper way. They should be permitted to make their final settlements with the commissioners upon retiring from office. The same difficulty arises when the treasurer of a city or town school board retires from office in June. Again, the law requires the school trustees to make an enumeration of the school children between the first day of March and the last day of April. The trustees in townships now go out of office early in April. If a part of the work of taking this enumeration is done by one trustee and a part by another, a great deal of confusion would be likely to arise. The law should require the outgoing township trustees to complete the enumeration and make their reports to the county superintendents before they retire from office.

10. Section 146 of the general school law reads as follows: "Any person who shall sue for or on account of any decision, act, refusal, or neglect of duty, of the Township Trustee, for which he might have had an appeal, according to the provisions of the preceding section, shall not recover costs." The preceding section provides for no appeal. The appeal spoken of in section 146 is evidently the appeal from the decision of the trustee to the county superintendent as provided for in section 164.

11. An act approved March 11, 1875, entitled "an act to limit the power of township trustees in incurring debts, and requiring him to designate certain days for transacting township business," speaks of the township trustees as officers of the civil township and not as school trustees. In each township there are two separate corporations—a civil corporation for certain purposes, and a school corporation for certain other purposes. The civil corporation has a civil trustee, and the school corporation has a school trustee. Although both offices are held by one and the same person, they are, nevertheless, two separate and distinct offices. The supreme court has so declared. A limitation placed upon a township trustee does not necessarily limit him as a school trustee, and a limitation placed upon a school trustee of a township does not necessarily limit him as a civil trustee. It is thought that there is as much reason for the limitation of a school trustee in the contraction of a debt for a school house as there is for the limitation of a civil trustee in the contraction of a debt for a bridge or a road. Although possibly so intended by the legislature, I think this statute places no limitation whatever upon the trustees in townships in relation to school matters.

12. Incorporated cities and towns are often formed within townships, and both frequently extend their limits so as to include school property held by the townships. Sometimes this enlargement takes in a part of a school district, sometimes the whole of it. Sometimes the school property so included has not been paid for, and the township may be in debt heavily for it. Possibly it has issued bonds to cover this indebtedness. In most cases both the city or town, and the township have an interest in the property. If the property is retained by the city or town, the township would be defrauded; if retained by the township, the city or town would be defrauded. Cases of this sort are of frequent occurrence, and are among the most vexatious and annoying of any submitted to this department. While no two cases are precisely alike, some general provisions might be made by which questions of this sort might be speedily and easily settled. The law makes no such provisions, although the title to property worth hundreds of thousands of dollars is probably involved.

13. The school law has been amended at every session of the legislature since 1865. In order to ascertain the history of the amendments, all the published volumes of the acts printed must be carefully examined. So many sections of the law have been changed that this is a laborious task. If a section, say section 30, for example, has been amended by one session, and the amended section has been amended by another, and so on, in all editions of the school law issued from this office, the section as last amended has been printed in lieu of the original section. This is so printed that school officers may readily ascertain what the law is at any given time. The supreme court has laid down the rule that where a section has been once amended, it is no longer in existence, and that if further amendment is made the amendatory act must be amended rather than the original act. Great confusion has arisen from the fact that the legislature has often attempted to amend a section of the original school law which had already been amended by a subsequent act. This process has given us many school laws with defective titles. Some of these have already been declared void by the supreme court; others probably would be if brought before the court. This is one of the strongest arguments I can make for a thorough and entire revision of the whole school law. A simple, plain, compact, school law is an absolute necessity to the proper administration of the schools and the management of the school funds. I think I have said enough to show that the work I am doing is of vast importance and that the legislature was justified in requiring it to be done, whatever of labor or time may be consumed in its accomplishment.

PRESERVATION OF THE SCHOOL FUND.

In my last annual report to the governor, I referred at length to the present method of managing the school funds, and to the means I proposed to employ for their more thorough supervision. I have, so far as I have been able, carried into effect the plans suggested. There is still, however, much confusion existing in relation to the matter. The seven per cent. loans will have been recalled and re-loaned at eight per cent. at the end of the year 1878. This will of itself simplify to some extent the management of the funds. The act of the last legislature requiring auditors managing funds belonging to congressional townships divided by county lines to distribute to each county its proper share of such funds, will, when fully accomplished, remove the greatest difficulty which now exists.

Some of the county auditors insist that the state can not compel a county to hold itself responsible for nominal losses which occur to the congressional fund by reason of the forfeiture to the county of congressional land once sold. It has been held by this department that when congressional land is sold, the money received for such land, together with the deferred payments on the same, should be reported as principal, and that the county must be held for the full amount of such sale, including deferred payments, even though the deferred payments were never paid into the county treasury. Two county auditors have refused to report the interest due on such deferred payments.

In order to test the matter, I have addressed the following letter to the attorney general, viz:

INDIANAPOLIS, January 5, 1878.

Hon. C. A. Buskirk, Attorney General of Indiana:

DEAR SIR—I have the honor to request your opinion on the following propositions, viz:

1. The congressional township school fund is a fund arising from the sale of land granted by congress to the congressional townships,

2. Inasmuch as the civil townships created by the legislature do not coincide with the congressional townships created by congress, the congressional townships have no organization or officers established by law who can assume the duties of this trust. Whoever, therefore, assumes the trusteeship of these lands or funds arising therefrom must necessarily do so under the authority of the legislature, and not under any authority derived from congress.

3. The legislature has by law created one trusteeship for the lands belonging to a congressional township, and another trusteeship for the funds belonging to the same. The school law, sections 54 to 74 inclusive, makes provision for the sale of congressional school lands by the county auditors and county treasurers, and for the management of the proceeds of such sale in such a way that the children shall receive the benefits thereof. It follows from this that the county has no proprietary rights in the congressional township funds, and that all the rights it has are derived from the legislature. I think it follows from this, also, that the counties are bound by all the directions, restrictions and penalties imposed by the legislature in such matters.

4. Section 55 of the school law provides that when land has been sold and there are deferred payments thereon, these deferred payments shall be regarded as a part of the congressional township school fund, and be reported as such by the auditor to the state superintendent of public instruction.

Section 3 of the school law reads as follows:

"Section 3. The several counties of this state shall be held liable for the preservation of so much of said fund as is intrusted or may have been intrusted to them, and for the payment of the annual interest thereon, at the rate established by law, the payment of which interest shall be full and complete every year, and shall so appear in the auditor's report to the superintendent of public instruction; and the said superintendent shall, at any time, when he discovers, from the report or otherwise, that there is a deficit in the amount collected for want of prompt collection or otherwise, direct the attention of the board of county commissioners and the county auditor to the fact, and said board of commissioners are hereby authorized and required to provide for such deficit in their respective counties."

See also sections. 2, 3 and 4, of article viii, of the constitution, which give vitality to the provisions of the law above quoted.

I recapitulate the salient points to which I wish to call your special attention, as follows:

1. The congressional township school fund consists of the proceeds of the sale of the congressional school land, together with the deferred payments due from any purchaser thereof.

2. The county has no proprietary interest in such lands or fund, and derives its sole power of trusteeship from the legislature.

3. In accepting this trust the county is bound by all the conditions and restrictions made by the legislature in relation thereto.

4. The legislature has provided that this congressional school fund shall never be diminished and that the county shall make up to such fund losses, from whatever cause occurring, and shall make good any loss of interest that may occur.

5. The county officers are required to report to the superintendent of public instruction the amount of such fund, together with the amount of interest thereon, and to make a full and complete settlement each year of such interest account with the state superintendent. The county auditor is also required to distribute each year the full amount of interest on such fund.

QUESTIONS.

1. After congressional land has been sold and the moneys received by the county officers and the moneys received therefrom, together with the deferred payments, have been reported to the state superintendent of public instruction, have the county officers any right to reduce the amount of said reported fund upon the plea that the land upon which there were deferred payments had been forfeited to the county, thus entailing a loss to the fund as reported; or can they reduce the amount on any other plea whatever?

2. If a county auditor refuses to report the full amount of the congressional fund, together with the interest thereon, and refuses to distribute the full amount of interest for the benefit of the various congressional townships in his jurisdiction, what steps should be taken to compel such report and such distribution of interest?

3. In case the congressional township school fund has been in the treasury in actual cash, and has been loaned by the county, as required by law, and the money has been lost by reason of the forfeiture of the security, has the county auditor the right to refuse to report and distribute the full amount of interest on such lost fund on the ground that the said fund belongs to the congressional township and does not belong to the state? If such refusal has been made, what remedy exists?

Very respectfully,

JAMES H. SMART,

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

If, in the attorney general's opinion, the counties are liable for such interest, I shall endeavor to secure a settlement with the counties in question as soon as practicable.

JAMES H. SMART,

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

REPORT.

To His Excellency JAMES D. WILLIAMS,
Governor of Indiana :

SIR: The Board of Trustees of the State Normal School have the honor to present their annual report, showing the condition of the institution under their charge.

The improvements contemplated in our last report have been in part completed. The steam apparatus referred to, has failed in part to give the satisfaction guaranteed in the contract for its construction. It is hoped the alterations made the current year may render it satisfactory. A final payment awaits a sufficient test. This failure to realize our anticipations has increased current expenses in providing temporary substitutes for heating.

We have paid for seats in our audience hall which were loaned to the institution at the time of our last report, awaiting an appropriation for their purchase.

The pavements on the north and west of the Normal School lot have been completed. Other similar work awaits the completion of a substantial wood fence, which is under contract. We hope when these improvements give protection to the grounds, to tastefully plant and ornament the same, a work which has been too long waiting legislative appropriations.

The changes made in the law relative to auditing and paying our accounts leads to additional inconvenience and expense. In some portions of the year expenses are greater than at others, and are therefore not commensurate with the appropriations as now drawn. The consequence is the necessary bills for current expenses can not always be honored when due. We would therefore suggest the desirability of making appropriations payable to the order of the Board of Trustees, and the State can be made secure from the unfaithfulness in expenditures by requiring an itemized report at the end of each year, and affixing penalties for maladministration and for incurring indebtedness beyond the limit of appropriations.

THE PAST YEAR

Has been one of gratifying results. The work here done is becoming more and more appreciated by the teachers of the State, and the effective service of those who have received the advantages of the institution in district, corporate and city graded schools, is becoming much more known and appreciated. Probably in no year has so much institute work been done as in the present by our Normal School teachers. We accept this as gratifying evidence of an earnest desire on the part of teachers generally to reach a fuller and better preparation for their work.

THE AUTUMN TERM

Has opened with a larger number of students than has been admitted in any corresponding term. We accept this as other satisfactory evidence that the institution is increasing and widening its influence and usefulness.

THE COURSE OF INSTRUCTION

Of the institution has been made out with great care, and is designed to embrace all the elements of "those branches of science and philosophy, of which the industrial, social and political conditions of the people make them feel the want." It is, therefore, thoroughly practical, and keeps constantly in view the wants of the teacher.

It is also arranged to suit the irregular attendance of such students as can not remain continuously in the institution until the completion of the course. Nearly 80 per cent. of those who attend are dependent on their own earnings to meet expenses while at school.

About 90 per cent. of the Normal School students are from among the laboring classes, and 80 per cent. are children of farmers. These facts should favorably impress the mind of every citizen with the desirability of the work of this institution to the State. Aid is thus properly given out not only to such as need it, but to supplement the means of those who are laboring to qualify themselves to serve the State.

THE SECRETARY AND TREASURER

Will supplement this report by a financial exhibit. The President of the Faculty will also present a condensed account of the professional work of the institution.

We gratefully acknowledge the blessing of a Divine Providence upon our work, and in the general health and prosperity of the institution in the past year.

We feel assured that the best interests of the State, in popular education, are being subserved; and that as years add to its prosperity and increased usefulness the State will be found cherishing it and sustaining it with a liberality and pride which will make it inferior to none. As are our teachers, so will all our institutions of learning, so will our people be.

Respectfully submitted,

B. C. HOBBS, President.

Of the two hundred and twenty-nine different students who have attended the school during the year covered by this report, eighty-nine per cent. come from families in which the parents are engaged in the productive industries. The parents of eleven per cent. of the said number of students belong to the mercantile and professional classes.

CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

Pupils, if females, must be sixteen years of age; if males, eighteen. They must possess good moral character and average intellectual abilities. If residents of Indiana, they must promise to teach, if practicable, in the common schools of the State a period equal to twice that spent as pupils in the Normal School. They must pass a fair examination in reading, spelling, geography and in arithmetic through percentage. They must write a legible hand, and be able to analyze and parse simple sentences.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The law prescribes what shall be taught in the common schools.

This fact determines, in part, directly, and, in part, indirectly, the course of instruction and training in the Normal School.

The reasons for adopting the course of study laid down in the catalogue were fully set forth in my last report. See Report of Superintendent of Public Instruction, 1876, pp. 123-128.

The course of instruction and training as printed in the catalogue—merely naming subjects as it does—conveys no idea of the character of the work done in the respective subjects. The spirit in which the work is conducted can not be put in a printed list of studies. Direct inspection is necessary to comprehend it, and this inspection will require more than an hour or a day.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Of these there are two, the Eclectic and the Philomathean. Their purpose is to give their members opportunity to learn to organize and conduct a deliberative body in accordance with parliamentary law; to train them to investigate questions which lie outside of class-room instruction, and to assist them in forming independent opinions, and to express them orally and in writing. They are a valuable auxilliary to the professional education of the student. Much interest is maintained in them.

LIBRARY.

Through the generosity of a private citizen of Terre Haute, Mr. Chauncey Rose, the institution is in possession of a valuable library of over 1,700 volumes. This library contains standard volumes of reference in each department of instruction in the school. It also contains many works of great value to the general student and reader.

The library is used. It is not an ornamental appendage to the institution. It contains no rubbish.

The training which a student gets in learning how to use books is part of his education.

EXPENSE.

Tuition is free by law. Boarding can be had in good families at $3.50 to $5.00 per week, according to quality of accommodations. Good boarding, in clubs, can be obtained at $1.60 to $2.75 per week. There is no good reason, on the ground of expense, why any young person, who aspires to be a teacher, and who wishes to render to the public an equivalent in services for the money which he receives as a teacher, should not avail himself of the professional instruction and training at the State Normal School.

Respectfully,

WM. A. JONES.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

To His Excellency, JAMES D. WILLIAMS,

Governor of the State of Indiana:

SIR: The Board of Trustees of the Indiana State Normal School have directed me, as Secretary of the Board, to make to you a statement of the financial condition of the institution.

I herewith submit a full report of the receipts and expenditures from November 15, 1876, the date of my last report, to the thirty-first of October, 1877.

There are some bills for repairs not yet paid, for the reason that a contract was made for the repairs upon condition that they should not be paid for unless they were successful.

The appropriation for the seven months ending October 31, 1877, has not all been drawn, and will be left until it is determined whether the Board shall pay for the repairs already done.

The Board has thought proper to reduce the pay-roll of teachers below that of previous years.

The funds are kept separately, and you will find each item of expense under its appropriate head.

I give in the statement the number of each order, which corresponds with the original voucher.

I have in accordance with the construction given to the law by the Auditor of State, filed the original vouchers in his office.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN T. SCOTT, Secretary.

OFFICE OF PURDUE UNIVERSITY,
LAFAYETTE, IND., January 31, 1878.

To His Excellency, JAMES D. WILLIAMS,
Governor of the State of Indiana:

SIR: I have the honor to submit the report of Purdue University for the academic year, ending June 30, 1877, with financial statements for the sixteen months ending October 31, 1877, and a report of operations on the farm for the year 1877.

I am, most respectfully, your obedient servant,

E. E. WHITE,
President of Purdue University.

PURDUE UNIVERSITY.

THIRD ANNUAL REPORT.

The third annual session of Purdue University opened September 12, 1876, and closed June 14, 1877.

At the close of the previous session the University was reorganized with three departments, to-wit: The University Academy, College of General Science, and Special Schools of Science and Technology. Temporary accommodations for the Academy were provided in the boarding house, and the laboratory and the lower story of the dormitory were used for the accommodation of the College and the Special Schools. The accommodations thus provided were not adequate, but they served the temporary purpose intended, and a successful year's work was done.

The wisdom of the reorganization was attested by a large increase in the number of students, and also by the practical working of the institution. Its administration has increased our confidence in the wisdom and success of the system.

The faculty, as reorganized, consisted of the President, who also filled the chair of English Literature; Harvey W. Wiley, A. M., M. D., Professor of Chemistry and Physics; John Hussey, A. M., Ph. D., Professor of Natural History; David G. Herron, A. M., Ph. D., Professor of Mathematics and Civil Engineering; Edward P. Morris, A. B., Instructor in Latin and History; Walter L. Dean, Instructor in Industrial Art; Robert F. H. Weyher, Instructor in German; George R. Chase, A. M., and Sarah A. Oren, Principals of Academy.

The names of the students in attendance in the year were published in the annual register. The following is the

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

It is the aim of those who are entrusted with the official direction of Purdue University, to use wise economy in the expenditure of its funds. The proper equipment of the institution has required a large outlay for buildings and other permanent improvements. Happily these improvements are so nearly made that there will not soon be a demand for any large expenditure for these purposes. The main college building, recently completed, was erected and furnished at a very low cost. It is believed to be one of the cheapest as well as one of the best college buildings in the country.

The method in which the accounts of the University are kept imposes much labor on the President, but it secures needed accuracy and system. All bills are approved by the Auditing Committee, or by the Board of Trustees. They are numbered, classified, and registered by the President of the University, and corresponding warrants on the Treasurer are drawn by the Secretary, who makes a proper record of the same. Before payment, the warrants are endorsed by the holders, and, when paid, they are cancelled, and the amounts entered.

The three records thus made of all expenditures agree in amounts, but they may not agree in dates. A warrant may not be paid on the day in which it is drawn, and it may neither be drawn nor paid on the date of the registry of the corresponding bill. The annual statements, reported to the Governor, are made from the registry record, kept by the President. This not only presents accurately the expenditures in a given period, but the items are classified, showing the expenditures for different purposes. The two accounts kept of receipts, respectively, by the Treasurer and the President, agree in amounts and dates, and the annual statements are the results of a careful comparison of the same.

The academic year of the University ends June 30, and a rule of the Board of Trustees requires a financial report to be made to the Board semi-annually. The annual report is made by uniting the two semi-annual reports. Unfortunately, the fiscal year of the State ends October 31, and the annual report to the Governor must conform thereto. Since the last annual report covered the academic year of the University, it is necessary to make this report cover a period of sixteen months—from July 1, 1876, to October 31, 1877, inclusive. In the future it will be easy to make two reports—one covering the academic year of the University, and the other the fiscal year of the State.

With these explanations, I submit the following statements of the receipts and expenditures of the University for the year ending June 30, 1877, and for four months ending October 31, 1877.

It is seen from the above table that the current receipts of the University,* not including receipts from endowment fund, Judge Purdue, or the State, were $6,230.43, and that the current expenses, not including salaries of instructors, were $8,342.65. This gives an excess of current expenses over current receipts of only $2,112.22. In the previous year (1875-6) this excess was $3,413.05, making a gain of $1,300.83 in favor of the past year. A further comparison shows that this gain was not so much due to an increase of receipts as to a reduction in expenses. The expenses of the previous year, with less than half as many students, were $911.88 more than in the year 1876-7. The current receipts in the present year will be much reduced by the law authorizing the appointment of students by county commissioners, but it is believed that the excess of current expenses will not be more than $2,500. The University is happily relieved from the running of a boarding house. Table board is now furnished by Mr. John F. Hall, who rents the boarding house for this purpose. The plan is working in a very satisfactory manner.

THE UNIVERSITY FARM.

A comparison of the cash receipts from the farm with its expenditures does not fairly show its financial management. The farm is entitled to credit for all services rendered and for all supplies furnished the University. The hauling of coal employs one team and hand almost constantly for several months, and the farm has furnished more or less assistance in the improvement of the college grounds.

In the following table the farm is credited with all assistance rendered the University, these credits being designated as "allowances," to distinguish them from cash receipts.

The excess of the running expenses of the farm over its receipts is partly due to the fact that it has been taxed with the feeding and care of several head of blooded stock, which as yet have afforded no corresponding return. It takes time for such an investment to pay. The increase must be sufficient to permit sales before there can be any cash returns. It is believed that the herd will hereafter be a source of income to the farm.

It seems proper to state, in this connection, that the farm is conducted by the Farm Superintendent, under the direction of the Board of Trustees. Neither the President of the University nor the Faculty has, at present, anything to do with its management. Hitherto the University has made no demand on the farm for experiments, illustrations or practice for its students. The farm has been conducted as an illustration of model farming, and the experiments attempted have been made for the benefit of agriculture, and not with reference to the course of instruction in the institution. As soon as the School of Agriculture is fully organized there will necessarily be a demand on the farm for experiments and illustrations, if not for practice, under the direction of the Faculty.

SPECIAL STATE APPROPRIATION.

The college year 1876-7 opened without a dollar in the treasury to meet expenditures not payable from the endowment fund or other special funds. The Board was relying upon the annual installment of Judge Purdue's donation, due since May 1, but his sudden death prevented the payment of the money into the treasury. Mr. Pierce, the treasurer, generously advanced the money needed to pay running expenses and bills for improvements made or in progress at the time of Judge Purdue's death. On the first of January, 1877, the general fund was overdrawn to the amount of $6,151.92, including $3,000 advanced to the sub-contractors to complete the foundation of the new building and protect the same from injury. Mr. Pierce continued to advance money until April, 1877.

Under these circumstances the Board of Trustees appealed to the General Assembly for assistance, and a special appropriation of $5,000 was made to pay the indebtedness of the University. The following statement shows that this appropriation was used for the purpose designated in the statute: .

The appropriation proved sufficient to pay the current expenses of the University to the close of 1876, and all general improvements made prior to the passage of the act, the small balance of $110.45 excepted. Several of the bills for improvements made in 1876 were not paid until after the receipt of the money from the State. The $3,000 advanced to the sub-contractors was subsequently refunded by them, and hence is not included in the above statement. It is proper to add that the larger portion of the expenditures for improvements was made necessary by the opening of the academy and the large increase in the number of students. All the rooms for students in the boarding house and several in the dormitory had to be supplied with heaters and furnished.

Soon after the adjournment of the General Assembly, the administrators of Judge Purdue's estate obtained the authority of the court to assume and carry out the contract for the erection of the main college building. Work was at once resumed by the sub-contractors, and most of the rooms above the basement story were ready for occupancy on the fifteenth of October. The building was dedicated with appropriate exercises on the twenty-first day of November. Brief addresses were delivered by Governor Williams, ex-Governor Hendricks, ex-Minister Orth, President Moss, of the State University, President Jones, of the State Normal School, and the writer. The occasion disclosed a most gratifying interest on the part of leading citizens of the State in the success of the institution. A description of the building (called "University Hall,") with a detailed statement of its cost, will properly be made in the next annual report of the University. It must suffice to add here that the building furnishes excellent accommodations, and must largely contribute to the success and usefulness of the institution.

The boiler and gas house, destroyed by fire in July last, has been rebuilt in a substantial manner, the coal house being constructed of brick, with brick floor and iron roof. The boilers and engines were not seriously damaged and have been put in good condition. Two new boilers have been added. A full statement of the cost of these repairs and improvements will also be made in the report for the current fiscal year.

The improvements for the college grounds include an automatic gate, set at the main entrance by the manufacturers, Messrs. Ball & Manlove, Paris, Illinois. It operates in a satisfactory manner.

The General Assembly made the following specific appropriations to Purdue University for each of the fiscal years beginning respectively November 1, 1877, and November 1, 1878: For the expenses of the Board of Trustees, including the salaries of secretary and treasurer, $1,500; for improvement of grounds, experiments in agriculture, and stock for farm, $1,500; for apparatus, machinery, cabinets and fixtures, $2,500; and for books and periodicals for library, $1,000.

FOURTH YEAR OF THE UNIVERSITY.

The fourth annual session of the University opened September 12, 1877, with a gratifying increase in the number of students, the enrollment for the term being one hundred and thirty-five—sixty-one in the college and special schools, and seventy-four in the academy. Several other students entered, but from sickness or other cause did not remain long enough to be placed on the roll. The number of students admitted to the Freshman class was twenty-five. The several classes are pervaded by an excellent spirit, and are making very satisfactory progress.

It affords me special pleasure to add that both of the graduates of last year are taking past-graduate courses, Mr. Eldridge in Civil Engineering, and Mr. Clark in Chemistry.

At the close of the last college year, Professors Morris, Dean, and Chase resigned (Prof. Morris to accept a position in the college at Lake Forest, Illinois, at a much higher salary), and their places were filled by the appointment of Prof. Charles E. Lambert, of Indiana, Instructor in Latin and History; Prof. L. S. Thompson, of Ohio, Instructor in Industrial Art; and Prof. E. E. Smith, of Kentucky, Principal of the Academy. All have made a very promising beginning.

I must further anticipate the report of the present year by a brief reference to the retirement of Hon. John R. Coffroth from the Board of Trustees. Believing that the University had reached a position permitting him to retire without prejudice to its interests, he felt that it was no longer his duty to make the business sacrifice required by a continuance in the board. He has ably filled the office of trustee for seven years, and the presidency of the Board for more than two years, and his resignation was much regretted. He is succeeded in the trusteeship by John C. Dobelbower, Esq., of Lafayette, and in the presidency of the Board by Hon. M. D. Manson, of Crawfordsville.

Respectfully submitted,

E. E. WHITE, President.

FARM OPERATIONS FOR 1877.

President E. E. White:

SIR: I have the honor herewith to present my report of the result of the work on the University Farm for the year 1877:

The usual success has attended the operations of the farm during the present year. No casualties of importance have happened to crops or stock. Good crops have rewarded the labors bestowed upon the soil, and a reasonable increase of stock has occurred.

It will be observed that the variety of crops is limited to the kinds usually raised by the farmers of this vicinity. Our space is limited, and the uniformity of soil on the University farm points out a few staple articles as those to which we are mainly obliged to look for profitable crops. Other causes, however, have hindered certain additions to our crops, which we design to make. Hitherto we have been governed by a desire to make good crops, such as are ordinarily depended upon in this section of the State. Two motives have led us to follow this course. The first is, that most farmers must at present confine themselves to staple crops, and if any advantage flows from our management of these crops to the surrounding country and to the State, its effect will be more immediately and more widely felt. The second motive is, that experimenting on special and unusual crops is always expensive, and must often be unsatisfactory. While such experimenting, if properly conducted, would be expensive to the University, it must be profitable to the State. We are satisfied that a great advantage would be secured by the farmers of Indiana if a greater variety of produce should be aimed at. For while it can be demonstrated by figures that it is more profitable to raise a few staple articles and purchase others, yet important elements are left out of the calculation, as those odd bits of time which can be utilized in preparing and marketing small crops of various kinds, and which otherwise could not be profitably occupied. One important element in this consideration is the feeling of independence connected with such a course, for nothing adds so much to the independent life of the farmer as this habit of cultivating a variety of crops, and raising a variety of animals for use and sale. And this is still more to be urged on account of the common disuse of the habits of other days in respect to raising and dressing material and manufacturing articles of clothing. The considerations last referred to hold with full force when we apply them to the raising of a variety of poultry and other live stock. With proper attention, in view of the reasons above given, our farmers would find it more profitable in every way to raise more stock.

Below we give a summary of our operations on the farm for the year now closing.

GRAINS.

Rye.—We sowed by drilling, one and one-quarter bushels to the acre, white rye on five acres of ground which had borne a crop of wheat the previous harvest. The ground was broken up in August and put in good order. The grain was put in the ground September 12. We harvested from this field one hundred and seventy-five bushels, or at the rate of thirty-five bushels to the acre. We regard this a good crop, and we recommend it to the farmers of the State.

Wheat, Clawson.—Ten acres of wheat stubble were well broken in August and put in the best of order by rolling and harrowing, and then drilled to Clawson wheat, at the rate of one and one-fourth bushels to the acre, on the fifteenth and sixteenth of September. It grew and looked well in the fall, but was considerably winter-killed. The soil became deeply frozen, and the high winds carried away the snow which fell at different times. The surface of the ground was thawed out, while deeper it was still frozen. Then while this condition lasted, considerable rain fell, which stood in pools over the field, doing great injury to the crops. Our soil is underlaid with gravel and well drained, but the layer of frozen soil beneath made the water stand for some days over the young plants, damaging them much, and by several freezings in addition, killing them in patches. Notwithstanding this, the field of ten acres yielded one hundred and forty bushels of wheat, mixed with some cheat, or fourteen bushels to the acre. The grains were plump and good.

Fultz Wheat—We sowed nine acres to this variety of wheat, in the same way and proportions as the foregoing, the soil, clover sod, being prepared in the same way, and the sowing being done at about the same time, and like the last it also suffered from being winter-killed. This field yielded one hundred and fifty bushels of good plump wheat, being sixteen and two-thirds bushels to the acre.

Oats—Fourteen acres of ground, upon which corn had grown the preceding year, were put in good order and drilled to oats April 15 and 16, at the rate of two bushels per acre. The growth was altogether satisfactory, and the yield six hundred and thirty-one bushels, or more than forty-five bushels to the acre.

Corn—Four acres, upon which a crop of potatoes had been raised the year before, were put in good order, and the grain, a large yellow variety, drilled in, three feet eight inches between the rows. This was well cultivated and laid by with a bar plow. The yield upon gathering was two hundred and twelve bushels of sound corn, or at the rate of fifty-three bushels to the acre.

Another lot of twenty acres, upon which corn had grown the year before, was put in good order and put in corn in check-rows, the hills three feet eight inches apart, planted May 15, 16, and 17, and cultivated as the foregoing. The yield was one thousand three hundred bushels of good sound corn at the rate of sixty-five bushels per acre.

The last lot contained sixteen acres, and was a clover-sod, and was planted with same care as the other pieces, with a large yellow variety of corn. The ground was furrowed out with a cultivator and drilled May 19 and 20, and cultivated in the same manner as the preceding lots, yielding nine hundred and thirty-three bushels of good corn, or at the rate of sixty-two bushels per acre.

GRASS.

We had forty acres devoted to meadow, from which we secured sixty tons of good hay in good condition.

PASTURE.

The pasture land yielded abundantly during the entire season.

LIVE STOCK.

The stock on the farm has done well during the entire year, keeping in good condition. We have only desired to sell the bull calves, which we have been able to do at fair prices, paying a reasonable rate on cost, and yet making it a most profitable investment for those who purchased of us.

HOGS.

We find the breeding of fine hogs quite profitable, and consider our experience in this direction satisfactory.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

We have received from W. H. Cunningham, of LaFayette, one of the Star City cultivators, with which we desire to express our satisfaction ; after a full trial we recommend it.

We have also received from E. Michael, LaPorte, Ind., a fanning mill and separator, which we have operated with entire success. It works well, separating all kinds of grain, and we feel justified in recommending it without reserve.

We have received of William Smith, of Detroit, Mich., a hog breeder of wide reputation and experience, a pair of fine Suffolk pigs from his imported stock.

We have received from the agents a copy of Navin's Explanatory Stock Doctor, and we also acknowledge the receipt during the year of a copy of the Indiana Farmer, a paper invaluable to our stock men and farmers.

Farm Superintendent.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

To His Excellency, JAMES D. WILLIAMS,

Governor of Indiana :

We have the honor to submit our report for the year ending October 31, A. D. 1877.

The workings of the Institution, as indicated by the results, in all that pertains to the accomplishment of its humane objects, have been such as to favorably compare with the same of any previous year. The attendance has been somewhat larger than at any time heretofore, and quite up to the ratio of increase from year to year. The interest on the part of the pupils has been good, and their conduct, with few exceptions, all that could have been expected or desired. Nothing has transpired to mar the internal harmony of the school; each of its departments throughout the year has been in good and satisfactory condition, and all things have worked together for the successful accomplishment of the objects of the Institution.

The means afforded by the State have been sufficient to meet current wants in the usual manner, without encroaching on the appropriation for the coming year, except that, in view of a considerable diminution in the pro-rata of the appropriation for the last seven months of the year, we found it necessary to make a general reduction in wages and salaries. The compensation of the teachers, domestics, and laborers, skilled and unskilled, was diminished about fifteen per cent.

In this general reduction the physicians were excepted, whose salaries were lowered the year before, at the same rate, notwithstanding a prospective increase of labor, owing to a larger number of pupils in attendance. This change, which was a necessity, has been acquiesced in most commendably by our employes, there having been no unreasonable complaint, so far as we know, on the part of any.

Thomas MacIntire, our much-esteemed Superintendent, remains, as heretofore, faithful to his arduous duties, having in nothing failed to maintain the high standing of the school, which justly ranks among the best in our country. The other resident officers, without exception, have done their several parts well, for which they merit our commendation and the thanks of the patrons of the school throughout the State.

For information as to the various details of the management of the Institution, we refer you to the accompanying report of the Superintendent and papers pertaining thereto. Although not altogether pertinent to this report, but rather to that of next year, it seems proper to state now that with a diminished appropriation for current expenses of the incoming year, and a certain prospect of no considerable increase of the number of pupils and the entire omission of the usual allowance for repairs and re-furnishing, the exercise of more than ordinary economy will be necessary to maintain the Institution, for the year, free from debt. This, however, we think is practicable, so far as current wants are concerned, unless there shall be an unusual advance in prices of articles of subsistence, but it seems probable that all the necessary repairs can not be kept up without a small appropriation by the next legislature for that purpose.

Ready at all times, as under your supervision, to heed whatever you may suggest or advise, in the capacity of chief Executive of the State, we commend our charge to your care and its management to your approval.

Very respectfully,

P. H. JAMESON,
J. R. BROWN,
M. JAMES,

Trustees.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees:

GENTLEMEN:—I hereby respectfully present to you my annual report of the affairs of the executive department of the Institution for the year beginning November 1, 1876, and ending October 31, 1877.

Through the blessing of Divine Providence the Institution has continued to fulfill the high and noble purposes of its creation. Prosperity and success have crowned the labors of another year. The officers and teachers associated with me in the service of the Board have shown a praiseworthy zeal in the promotion of the best interest of the Institution and in the welfare and improvement of the pupils. Good order, subordination, harmony and zealous co-operation have continued in the work of all departments. The pupils have been punctual in their attendance, orderly in their conduct, attentive to their studies, and, with few exceptions, have made commendable progress in their intellectual and moral improvement.

CHANGES IN TEACHERS AND OFFICERS.

During the year several changes in the teachers and officers of the Institution, worthy of notice, have taken place. Mr. William R. Corwin, who had been engaged successfully as a teacher for four years, resigned at the close of last term to engage, in accordance with a purpose for some time entertained, in other business. And at the same time Miss Sadie J. Crabbs, who had served in the same capacity and with equal acceptability for a period of six years, tendered her resignation. Both of them, educated in the institution, were graduates of the High Class, and had proved themselves very efficient instructors; and it was with much regret that we had to part with them and their services. The vacancies thus made have been filled—the first, by the appointment of Mr. William A. Caldwell, a graduate of Hanover College,; and the second, by Miss Emma E. Goree, a young lady of this city. The methods of instruction pursued in the Institution are new to both of them; but they have entered upon the work with a zeal and energy, which, with the qualifications they possess, will doubtless, if they persevere in the course they have chosen, be crowned with success.

The place of Housekeeper, the duties of which had been for four years so ably performed by Mrs. Abbie Broadrup, was made vacant by her resignation the 10th of August last, to accept the position offered her of Matron of the Wisconsin Institution for the Deaf and Dumb. This important position, on the faithful performance of the duties of which, the economy and comfort of the household so much depend, has been filled since the first of September last by the appointment of Miss Lucy A. Doty, a lady of experience in the management of domestic affairs, and who has thus far given satisfaction.

The other teachers and officers remain the same as last year. A list of their names, as well as those of all the other employes of the Institution, with the occupation of each and the compensation respectively paid, will be found in the monthly pay-roll filed in the office of Auditor of State.

THE HEALTH OF THE HOUSEHOLD.

The general health of the pupils the past year, has been as good as usual, except on two occasions, when the family was invaded, first by the mumps, and afterwards by the measles. The household had been free from a visitation of the mumps for five or six years, and the larger part of the pupils had never had the disease. It broke out on the first of October, and the contagion spread through the school, and continued to annoy us until the last of December following, when it ceased from want of subjects. One hundred and eighty-one pupils were affected with it. Many of the cases were light, and a recovery, in most of them, took place in a week or ten days; but some pupils, however, who had the disease, and especially the older ones, suffered much and lingered with it for weeks before entirely recovering.

When the mumps had disappeared and we had begun to enjoy good health again, we were visited by the measles. It broke out the latter part of March and continued until the 28th of the following April, when the last case was discharged from the hospital. Having had a visitation of the measles about two years before, there were not so many subject to the disease as there were in the case of mumps. Only sixty had it; and we are thankful to record that they all recovered—none suffered any fatal consequences.

But this wide-spread and protracted sickness had an unfavorable influence on the school, in the loss of time and the interruption of the studies of the pupils. The interruption thus caused, added to that produced by other ailments, has been greater than has happened in any time before. But still there has been much for which we ought to be thankful. Not a death has occurred among the pupils in the Institution for now nearly three years. One pupil, however, has died at home of consumption a few months after having been taken there by her friends. This was Miss Caroline S. Hauss, a pupil sixteen years of age, from Allen county. She had been under instruction irregularly for about five years. She was possessed, naturally, of a good mind and of an amiable disposition, but on account of her ill health her progress was moderate and her attainments small for the time she had been connected with the school. She was probably constitutionally predisposed to pulmonary disease; she had often shown symptoms of it, and last spring, becoming worse, her friends visited her and took her home, where she afterwards died in their midst.

ARTICULATION.

In our last report it was mentioned that a special teacher of articulation had been employed, and that the introduction of Mr. A. Graham Bell's System of Visible Speech, as applied to the instruction of the semi-deaf and semi-dumb, had been commenced. The main object had in view, as then stated, was to develop, improve and perpetuate in this class of pupils any power of speech they might possess, and to train them in lip-reading, so that they might carry on oral conversation with others. To Miss E. Thacher was assigned this department of instruction. She entered upon the work at the beginning of the term, and has devoted her entire attention to it. The success achieved more than equals our expectations, and is full of encouragement to persevere in it. But it is no easy task, as must be manifest to any one who will reflect upon it. To re-create the voice and reform the speech of semi-mutes, to say nothing of developing it in those entirely dumb, is not a thing to be accomplished in any case by a few spasmodic efforts, but is very difficult, and requires long practice, great patience, and a good degree of energy and zeal, on the part of both teacher and pupil, to succeed to such an extent as to make speech available for intercourse with strangers.

On canvassing the school at the beginning of the session, thirty-nine pupils were found in attendance who once heard, and who retained some ability to speak; and about seventy-five others, who, although they had once been able to hear, yet having become deaf, had lost their power of speech, and were in all respects as essentially dumb as those who had been born without hearing. This latter class, embracing those born deaf and those who had lost their hearing in infancy, could when they entered school, in most cases speak a few words, but in conversation with their friends they were in the habit of expressing themselves almost entirely by natural signs, and were as entirely destitute of any knowledge of written or spoken language as the hearing child ordinarily is at two years of age. We are aware that most of these could be taught an imperfect articulation, but it would be at the expense of their intellectual and moral development, which we are sure can be secured much more rapidly and much more perfectly through the channel of the sign language.

Therefore we have confined our instruction in articulation almost entirely to the semi-mutes. They belong to the different grades of the school, and are in their studies of all degrees of advancement from the lowest to the highest. The plan has been to divide them into small sections, and to withdraw each section successively from the other classes and instruct them in articulation and lip-reading from half an hour to an hour at a time. All their other studies have been conducted as usual by the other teachers in their respective classes. Some inconvenience from the interruption to the studies of the pupils in the regular classes was produced by the withdrawal of the semi-mutes to recite. On the other hand it was found in practice that the instruction given by signs, in the classes composed of both semi-mutes and deaf-mutes, greatly retarded the improvement of the former in articulation.

For this reason, at the opening of the present session, a different classification was made, and the department of articulation established, in which, not only instruction in this branch is given, but also all the other studies of the course are carried on according to this method. This arrangement relieves the other classes from the constant interruption, and will be much more advantageous to the semi-mutes; because it will afford them a much better opportunity for improvement by reciting their lessons orally.

This class embraces eighteen pupils. There are many other semi-muters in the school that could be profitably taught by this method; and we had hoped to secure another teacher in this department by this time, but have not, and therefore have been compelled, for the present, to commit their instruction to the other teachers, assigning them, as far as possible, to the speaking and hearing teachers to be trained, as best they can, in articulation, in connection with their other studies.

All bills on account of current expenses, including clothing, repairs and improvements, from April 1 to October 31, 1877, have been made out in duplicate, and, in accordance with the late enactment of the Legislature, after being sworn to by the payee, certified by the Superintendent, approved by the Board of Trustees, signed by the President, and audited by the Auditor of State, have been paid on his warrant by the Treasurer of State; and one copy of each of the accounts has been filed at the Institution, and the other retained in the office of the Auditor.

To complete the set of vouchers for the expenditures on this account for the year, certified copies of all the bills from November 1, 1876, to March 31, 1877, paid previously to the enactment of the new law, on the audit and order of the Board, and kept on file at the Institution, have been made out and filed in the Auditor's office.

Itemized and separate accounts for clothing furnished indigent pupils have, in each case, as heretofore, been made out as the law requires, against the respective counties from which they severally came, and properly certified by the Superintendent and attested by the seal of the Institution, have been filed with the Treasurer of State, who has collected them and placed the amount to the credit of the current expense fund of the Institution, as is stated above.

The special allowance made by the Legislature for renewing the fences around the grounds and a part of the farm has been used, but was not sufficient fully to complete the objects intended. A neat and substantial fence with wooden palings and cedar posts has been made along the north and west sides of the front grounds, and a close board fence about half the way along the south side between the boys' play-grounds and the railway; and, to keep the boys from clambering over and getting on the track, the top has been studded with sharp iron spikes. It will require about five hundred dollars to complete the improvements authorized by the Legislature, but not having the funds with which to finish the work, we have had the other fences repaired as well as we could at a small expense to serve, if possible, until the means shall be furnished to rebuild them.

It will be perceived from the preceding statement that the cost of sustaining the institution the past year, exclusive of clothing, and including repairs and refurnishing, has been $62,186.11, with three hundred and three pupils. By a reduction of salaries and wages, and the exercise of the strictest economy, we have been enabled to close the year with a small balance on hand.

THE NUMBER OF PUPILS.

The number of pupils instructed last session and the number of new admissions this, have been larger than in any former year.

There were in attendance at the beginning of last year three hundred and three pupils; one hundred and eighty-five male, and one hundred and seventeen females.

There were sixty-one new admissions within the year; thirty-eight males and twenty-three females, making in all three hundred and sixty-four; two hundred and twenty-three males and one hundred and forty females.

There were discharged forty-four pupils; twenty-six males and eighteen females; leaving in attendance, at this date, three hundred and twenty; one hundred and ninety-five males and one hundred and twenty-five females.

Besides those in attendance there are ten others belonging to the regular classes, who, from sickness and from other causes, have as yet been prevented from entering this session. There are now present as many as can consistently be crowded into the buildings, and more, we fear, than the funds at our disposal will enable us to support and properly care for the present year.

The Institution has now arrived at a period in its history when it has become imperative either to provide additional accommodations or to limit still further the number of pupils admitted to its benefits. It will not, therefore, be considered out of place in this connection briefly to refer to the course heretofore pursued and the limitations imposed upon the admission of pupils, and to suggest what measures seem best to adopt in the present circumstances.

THE ADMISSION OF PUPILS.¹

The law in this State wisely leaves the terms of admission and the course of study in the Institution to the discretion of the Board of Trustees. Its design being the education of the deaf and dumb of the State, their endeavor has always been to bring under its benign influence as many of them as they could, and to do the greatest good they could to the greatest number.

When the Institution was first opened parents were very reluctant to send their children to it. They were skeptical of the practicality and the utility of educating them, and exceedingly averse to separating them from their other children, and sending them so far from home to reside among strangers, and much persuasion and urging was necessary to induce some of them to send their children to the school. But when the benefits of the Institution became known, and access to it became easy through the construction of railroads from all quarters of the State, this necessity ceased. The last effort of this kind was made in 1856, when the Steward made a tour over the northern part of the State to hunt up pupils and to persuade their parents to send them to the school.

Another serious obstacle formerly in the way of a large number of the most needy of this class entering school was the inability of their parents to furnish the necessary clothing and to pay their traveling expenses. The enactment of the law in 1855, which makes provision for all necessitous cases, removed this obstacle; and since then there has been no need of special effort to procure pupils. From that time on, by voluntary applications, the number of pupils increased from year to year, until in 1867 the buildings became over-crowded.

In the twenty-fourth annual report the crowded condition of the Institution, and the increased number of applicants for admission was stated and the necessity for increased accommodations set forth.

The Legislature, at the next session, took this subject into consideration, and, after a thorough examination by committee, decided that the Institution, without additional buildings, could not properly meet the wants of the State in educating this class of her unfortunate children, and accordingly made an appropriation of $42,500 to erect additional buildings; and when they were finished, an allowance of $11,000 more was made to furnish them.

When this appropriation was made the number of pupils in attendance was one hundred and eighty-six. The proposed additions were intended to provide for a prospective increase of one hundred more. It has been now ten years since this estimate was made; but so rapid has been the growth of the population of the State, and so great the increase of deafness from the increased prevalence of cerebro-spinal meningitis in the community, that the Institution has been filled up more rapidly than was anticipated, and has now become much more crowded than it was before—it having in attendance at this time, instead of one hundred increase, as was estimated, one hundred and forty-five more than were present at that time. There are a large number of this class of children in the State who are seeking admission and who ought to be under instruction, but whom we cannot admit for want of room. There were ninety-two regular applicants for the admission of new pupils this session. Only fifty-one could be received; the cases of forty-one have been postponed.

RESTRICTIONS ON THE ADMISSION OF PUPILS.

In the act creating the Institution, it was called an Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb; and the idea prominent in the minds of many of the community was that its design was as much to take care of the poor, the feeble and the destitute of this class, as it was to educate them. At first such were received and cared for by the Institution. When the writer was put in charge of the establishment he found a considerable number of this class quartered upon it, who, having staid from year to year through vacations and all, until they had lost their hold upon their friends and acquaintances in the places in which they had formerly lived, had come to consider the Institution as their home, and themselves as its wards. If this practice had been continued the Institution would have in reality, as well as in name, become an Asylum; and if the permanent care and guardianship of the destitute deaf and dumb of the State had been assumed, it would soon have been filled with such persons, and the prime end of its creation, in a great measure, defeated.

It became necessary to check this practice. Arrangements were made to send all the pupils home to the place from which they came, to reside among their friends and acquaintances during the vacation, and after they had completed their studies.

Very few of the deaf and dumb in this country are wholly destitute of natural protectors. If there are some whose parents are dead, there are usually other relatives, neighbors or friends, in the places where they belong, who will interest themselves in their welfare, and who will take care of them during vacations, and aid them after they leave school.

In the new constitution of the State, and in the laws passed in pursuance thereof, the name Asylum was changed to that of The Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb, and since then it has been modified both in its purposes and its practices, so as fully to accord with the design thus expressed.

When the Institution was first opened for pupils all the deaf and dumb of the State who wished were allowed to enter, irrespective of age. At that time this course was just and proper. A whole generation of them existed in the community, who had grown up in absolute ignorance, cut off as they had been by their misfortune from all means of intellectual and moral improvement. All this class, who desired the privilege, were allowed to attend the school, and were afforded instruction such as could be given them, and such as they were capable of receiving. For the first decade of the history of the Institution a large part of the pupils were persons over twenty-one years of age; and it is gratifying to know that many of those who entered school after they had grown up, acquired such a knowledge of our language as enabled them to communicate with others, and to transact the ordinary business of life, and thus not a few of them have become useful and respectable members of society.

Besides those mentioned above, there has always been in the community—more formerly than of late—a considerable number of this class, who, through poverty, ignorance or the neglect and indifference of those who had the control of them, had been kept at home until they had almost grown to be men and women, before they were sent to the school. So long as there was room all of this class who applied were received and instructed; but when the Institution began to be pressed for room, and their presence began to crowd out those who were younger, and more susceptible and capable of rapid improvement, the former were discriminated against in favor of the latter, until it has become the rule not to admit any over twenty-one years of age.

Another notion that used to be common, and occasionally found existing yet, was that the Institution was for the medical and surgical treatment of the deaf and dumb. By some it was thought to be a hospital, and they brought their children for the cure of deafness and other chronic infirmities. Recently a gentleman made application for the admission of his daughter, and after the application had been approved declined to send her, because we could not assure him she could be cured of her deafness.

It is now the rule not to receive or retain any as pupils whose health is not sufficient to enable them to pursue successfully the prescribed course of study. Ample provision is made for sudden, casual or temporary cases of sickness. The most skillful treatment and the most careful nursing are provided for all such persons during their residence here; but those of such infirm health that they are not able to attend the school, are not received; and if the health of pupils, after they have been admitted, becomes permanently impaired, so that they cannot study, they are transferred to the care of their friends.

Nor has the time allowed for instruction been too long; but on the contrary has been less than has ordinarily been enjoyed by speaking and hearing children in the common schools, and much less in reality than is necessary, if we take into view the facts that generally the deaf and dumb when they enter school are destitute of any knowledge of our language, and that it is to them wholly a foreign tongue, and that it takes them two or three years, after they enter, to acquire a knowledge of it such as will serve as a means of communication and an instrument of instruction equal to that possessed by speaking and hearing children the first day they enter school.

By a reference to the published statutes of New York, it is seen that all the deaf and dumb of that State, between the ages of six and twenty-five, are admitted free to the institution, and are allowed from the public funds for support, per capita, three hundred dollars per annum. By law all worthy applicants, who need and desire the privilege, are allowed four years instruction in the primary department, separate from the main institution, and including young children from six to twelve years of age, and five years in the intermediate, and three in the advanced course of study. Equally liberal provision is made in Ohio. There they admit pupils from six to twenty-one years of age.

Both as to the age of admission and the time of study we are limited by our necessities. Formerly young children from seven to ten were admitted to the Institution, and especially such as were county charges, but of late years, for want of room, we have been compelled to exclude all under ten, and confine admissions to those between the ages of ten and twenty-one.

The average time of instruction enjoyed by the pupils who were discharged at the close of the last session was only a fraction over six years, a period falling short nearly one year of what is generally considered sufficient time for the ordinary deaf-mute to gain such knowledge of our language and of the elementary branches of a common school education as will enable him to successfully communicate with others and to transact the ordinary business of life.

Thus we have not only been careful to exclude all those who could not clearly be profited by the instruction given, but of late years we have been compelled to restrict admissions and contract the time of study beyond what was desirable. Last session several besides those who had completed the usual course of study were discharged to make room for new pupils, some of whom were desirous of pursuing their studies further, and whom otherwise it would have been advisable to have allowed to remain a year or two longer the better to qualify themselves for making a living.

At that time it was thought that only so many new pupils could be received as there were old ones discharged, but at the opening of this term there were so many worthy applicants that the Board determined to make arrangements to board out as many of the teachers and other employes as could be spared from the supervision of the pupils out of school, and who for this purpose have heretofore been required to reside in the building. Accordingly, six of the teachers and several others of the employes have been provided with accommodations elsewhere, and the room thus vacated has been filled with additional pupils.

There are now residing in the Institution three hundred and fifty-five persons, including the pupils and those having the supervision and care of them. The number can not be increased without an increase of room. The subject, therefore, of how and to what extent this should be done is pressed upon our consideration. On the present occasion we will content ourselves with making a few suggestions.

In whatever plan that may be adopted provision should be made for a separate department for the younger children, in which a system of training and instruction is required different from that applied to the older pupils. In a small school this classification can in a great degree be effected, but in one as large as this it is almost impossible without separation to adopt and enforce a regimen that will secure to the younger ones that personal attention, tender care, sympathy and indulgence they need. The general plan of our buildings is such as would admit of extensions without much extra cost for alterations of the present structure; but this would not accomplish the object—no mere enlargement of the present building, without a radical change of the general plan, would be effective without very great expense. A better and more economical plan would be to erect a different building for all pupils under twelve years of age, to be under the same general management, but to constitute a distinct department, to be conducted somewhat after the manner of a well regulated Kindergarten school. The New York Institution for the Deaf and Dumb has had such a department in operation for several years, and with the most satisfactory results, as is known to us from personal examination of its workings.

We therefore respectfully recommend to the Board that this subject be taken up at an early day, and that measures be taken to secure a plan such as will best answer the present and prospective wants of the Institution in this regard, with an estimate of the cost, preparatory to an application to the Legislature at the next session for an appropriation for this purpose.

We would also suggest the propriety of amending the rules and regulations for the admission of pupils, restricting to the present number, and determining the class of applicants who should have precedence, as all can not now be accommodated. It might be arranged to admit in one of the following ways: in the order of application, or in the order of age; or only those within certain ages. In either case exceptions should be made in favor of those over eight years of age who are county charges.

STATISTICS OF DEAF MUTE INSTITUTIONS.

As a matter of special interest to the friends of the deaf and dumb, we append to the report a tabular statement prepared by the editor of the American Annals, published in Washington city, which exhibits, in brief space, the most valuable statistics of all the institutions of this class in the United States and the Dominion of Canada. It gives the latest and most reliable information on this subject anywhere to be found, and will serve to show what is being done in this department of education in America, and the position held by this Institution, compared with others, in the advancement of this benevolent work. We invite attention to this table in the appendix.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS.

In behalf of the pupils, we tender our sincere thanks to the proprietors and publishers of the following newspapers and periodicals, which have been gratuitously contributed to the Institution the past year.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

FOR THE

ADMISSION OF PUPILS.

I. The Institution is open to all the deaf and dumb of the State, between the ages of ten and twenty-one years, for admission as pupils, free of charge for boarding and tuition, upon compliance with the rules.

II. Pupils will be admitted on the following conditions: 1. The pupil, well provided with clothes, is to be brought to the Institution punctually at the commencement of each session, unless detained at home by his or her sickness. 2. The pupil is to remain in the school until the last Wednesday in June in each year. 3. No parent or guardian shall be allowed to take a pupil out of the school in session time, without assigning satisfactory reasons.

III. The annual sessions of the school commence on the first Wednesday after the 15th day of September, and close on the last Wednesday of June. Every pupil is to come promptly on or before the first day of the session, and is to remain until the last day of the same. The only exceptions allowed are cases of sickness.

IV. The Institution will provide for each State pupil regularly admitted, boarding, lodging, washing, superintendence of conduct, manners and morals, medical attendance, instruction, school books, slates, and all other incidental expenses of the school room, without charge, but will not pay the traveling expenses of pupils in coming to or returning from the Institution, nor supply them with clothing, except in extreme cases of destitution.

V. Those who are unable to pay for the necessary clothing, or whose parents neglect to supply them, it is made the duty of the Superintendent to furnish in accordance with the following legislative enactment:

“That when the pupils of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb are not otherwise supplied with clothing, they shall be furnished by the Superintendent, who shall make out an account therefor, in each case, against the respective counties from which said pupils were sent, in an amount not exceeding forty dollars per annum for every such pupil, which account will be signed by the Superintendent, and attested by the seal of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, and the Treasurer of State shall charge the account thus certified, to the county from which the pupil was sent, and credit the amount to the current expense fund of the Indiana Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

“SEC. 3. When such account shall be received by the Treasurer of the proper county, to whom it shall be immediately sent upon its reception by the Treasurer of State from the Superintendent, such County Treasurer shall cause the same to be paid out of the County Treasury to the Treasurer of the State. And such County Treasurer shall collect the amount of such account from the estate of such pupil, if he have any, by suits, if necessary, in the name of the county.”

VI. Each applicant for admission should come well supplied with clothing, and on all articles on which it is possible to mark the name of the pupil, it should be written with indelible ink. In all cases, except those clothed by the county, besides the ordinary supply of clothing, the applicant should deposit with the Superintendent a sum not less than five dollars, to defray incidental expenses, repairs of shoes, etc., any part of which remaining unexpended at the close of the session, will be returned. Each pupil should be supplied with a trunk.

VII. The Institution is not an asylum, but a school of learning; hence no one can be admitted or retained as a pupil who, from sickness or from other cause is unable to pursue his or her studies successfully.

VIII. The course of study in the primary department embraces Spelling, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography and Grammar, and ordinarily requires seven years to complete it. All the pupils who wish it, and who will avail themselves of it, are allowed the full benefit of this course of study.

IX. For the benefit of those who wish to qualify themselves for teaching or for other intellectual pursuits, the trustees have established a High Class, and adopted a course of three years' study in the sciences. From among those who complete the primary course of study, the Superintendent may select each year the most promising pupils and admit them as members of this class.

X. It is the intention of the trustees to render the pupils self-supporting, so far as practicable, and that every pupil, on leaving the Institution, shall be proficient in some useful occupation or trade, so as to be able to procure a livelihood without reliance on the charities of others. In accordance with this design, all the scholars will be required to labor a portion of each day, the girls performing the lighter kinds of housework and various kinds of needlework—as plain sewing, or ornamental work, and dressmaking; and the boys at various trades, the necessary work about the Institution, and in the cultivation of the farm and garden.

XI. All business letters or letters of inquiry in regard to pupils in the Institution, or those whom it may be designed to place there, should be addressed to THOMAS MAC INTIRE, Superintendent Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Indianapolis, Indiana.

XII. Those persons bringing pupils to, or taking them away, can not be furnished with board and lodging at the Institution.

XIII. Applicants for admission should be between ten and twenty-one years of age.

XIV. No pupil, unless under extraordinary circumstances, can be received at any other time than at the commencement of the session.

XV. The pupils are desired and expected to spend the vacation at home.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

To His Excellency, JAMES D. WILLIAMS,

Governor of the State of Indiana :

The undersigned, Trustees of the Indiana Institute for the Education of the Blind, have the honor to present the following brief communication and accompanying documents as the thirty-first annual report of the trust confided to them by the Legislature.

The report of the Superintendent, appendix B, to which we must refer your Excellency for a detailed statement of the progress of the several departments of the Institution during the year just closed, gives evidence of its successful continuance in the noble and humane work for which it was established; while that of our Secretary, appendix A, exhibits the various items of expenditure passed upon by our Board, both in detail as to the warrants issued and classified under appropriate heads. A careful inspection of these papers will, we trust, enable you to unite with us in the conviction that our charge is in good condition, financially and otherwise. In expressing the belief that this Institution, under the able management of the Superintendent and his assistant officers, is second in efficiency and prosperity to none of its class in the country, we but echo the sentiment of all who avail themselves of an opportunity to become acquainted with its character as an educational institution.

But while we are enabled to speak thus favorably of its results, as to the quality of the work performed by the Institution, still the fact remains that our buildings are inadequate to the accommodation of the entire number of the unfortunate blind youth of the State. This need would, doubtless, have been met by the Legislature long ere this had such action not been prevented by the financial stress of the country during the past few years, and we hope that upon the return of prosperity to our people, the long desired enlargement of our buildings may be accomplished. Meanwhile, we are using our best endeavors to occupy to the best advantage, such building space as we have at our command, and it was to this end that the Board authorized, during the recent vacation, the renovation of the shop building as set forth in the Superintendent's report, whereby the entire upper story of that structure was made available as sleeping apartments for some twenty-five additional pupils. This addition to our room was made at the comparatively small cost of two thousand six hundred and one dollars and thirty-three cents ($2,601.33,) which sum was saved by rigid economy from the appropriations of the last year.

The shop building was in urgent need of repair, externally as well as internally, and the work put upon it has placed it in excellent condition in the way of protection from the elements, and at the same time added immeasurably to its sightliness.

The resources and disbursements of the Institution for the fiscal year ended on October 31st, were as follows:

RESOURCES.

Unexpended balance in hands of State Treasurer, Nov. 1, 1876.....	$1,246 92
Five-twelfths of $32,500 appropriated for current support from April 1, 1876, to March 31, 1877, both inclusive.....	13,541 67
Amount refunded by counties on account of advances for pupils' clothing.....	1,273 68
Amount appropriated for current support from April 1 to Oct. 31, 1877, both inclusive	17,500 00
Amount of special appropriations for fences, etc.....	500 00
	$34,062 27

DISBURSEMENTS.

Amount expended for all purposes during the year, as set forth in Secretary's report.....	$32,208 44
Balance in hands of State Treasurer to cover allowances at next meeting of Board for October expenses.....	1,853 83
	$34,062 27

For the current support of the Institution for the fiscal year commencing with this date, an appropriation of thirty thousand dollars

($30,000) was made by the Legislature at its last session, which sum will, we doubt not, be adequate to that purpose, unless some unforeseen emergency shall arise.

The regular term of office of the Superintendent expiring on the last of September, Mr. W. H. Churchman was, at our meeting in July, unanimously re-elected by the Board for a further term of four years from and after the 1st of October ensuing. And in this connection we feel it due to express our unqualified commendation of the official conduct of our Superintendent, to whom the school is so largely indebted for its reputation at home and abroad, as well as our entire satisfaction with the manner in which the other officers have discharged their respective duties.

In conclusion, the Board would respectfully ask at the hands of your Excellency the fullest inquiry from time to time into the manner in which we are fulfilling the responsible trust confided to us, feeling confident that such inquiry can not fail to insure your earnest co-operation in our efforts to ameliorate the condition of the unfortunate class for whose benefit the Institution was established.

Respectfully submitted,

P. H. JAMESON,
CORTEZ EWING,
DANIEL MOWRER,
Trustees.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 1, 1877.

APPENDIX B.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees:

GENTLEMEN:—So little variation is there from year to year in the routine of the several departments of our institution, that, aside from the usual statistics, small need would seem to exist for an annual report from the superintendent. As, however, such is the requirement of your by-laws, the following brief communication is submitted as my report for the past year:

ASSISTANT OFFICERS.

Miss S. F. Briggs, declining at the close of the last session the tender of a reappointment for the present one, her place as assistant instructor in the Music Department was supplied by the engagement of Miss M. E. Churchman. With this single change, our corps of assistant officers remains the same as last year.

Of my co-laborers, as a class, in the administration of the practical affairs of the institution, upon whose fitness for their respective positions its success must always largely depend, I need only say that their zeal and fidelity have kept pace with their increasing experience. They are, as heretofore, earnestly commended to your continued confidence and support.

If special qualifications of head and heart, among which experience takes high rank, are necessary to successful teaching in ordinary institutions of learning, they are doubly so in a school like ours. The work of educating normally conditioned children, with the help of countless methods and appliances that are the result of the combined thought of the world throughout past ages is one thing, and that of unfolding and developing the crippled faculties of those who are destitute of the important sense to which most of these methods and appliances are addressed, is another thing. You need not be reminded, then, in view of the nature of our special work, that every year's experience on the part of our teachers serves to enhance very largely the value of their services in behalf of the unfortunate youth entrusted to our care, nor that it behooves us, if we would keep our institution abreast of others of its kind, to offer them every reasonable inducement to continue in a field of labor to which they show themselves so well adapted. Unless demanded by imperative circumstances, any change in the official corps of such an institution is greatly to be deprecated, especially on account of the scarcity of persons who possess the requisite training for such work.

PUPILS.

The following abstract from the catalogue appended hereto, shows the total number of pupils in attendance during the last school year, as well as the number from each of the counties of the state from which they were received:

Of the one hundred and ten pupils above enumerated, thirty left the institution at or before the close of the year, as follows:

Twenty-two—William H. Daly, James C. Fuller, Nicholas Gardner, James Johnson, Jesse S. Reed, Jerome A. Wilcox, Dora M. Bennett, Martha J. Dyson, Adna C. Ellis, Mary McGowan, Sarah E. McKenzie, Alma P. Morrison, Catherine McComsky, Mattie B. Rawlinson, Celestia Royal, Mary A. Stumbaugh, Barbe C. Sattler, Charlotte L. Stewart, Mary Sherrow, Melissa A. Trulock, Barbara S. Whitson and Clara Webb were honorably discharged and granted diplomas, they having completed the course of instruction assigned them respectively.

Five left informally without completing the course, on account of failing health and other causes.

And three were removed as unfit subjects for the further care of the institution.

The number of pupils received from the commencement of the current session to date is one hundred and five. Of these eighty had been previously connected with the school, and the remaining twenty-five are new scholars. The attendance should be larger at this time, and would be but for the detention at their homes on account of sickness and other causes of a number of applicants who expected to be here at the beginning of the session.

For some years past our building has been crowded beyond its proper capacity; but on account of the unusually large number leaving the past year, as above noted, taken in connection with the recent enlargement of our dormitory accommodations, referred to in a subsequent part of this report, we are now prepared to receive a greater number of applicants than ever before.

In view of this prospective enhancement of our accommodations, and to the end that the benefits of the institution might be as widely extended as possible, it was thought advisable to take some steps during the recent vacation toward the gathering in of a goodly number of the sightless children of the state who have hitherto been denied the privilege of school instruction. To persons unfamiliar with the conduct of an institution like this, it would seem unnecessary to more than advertise our increased facilities in the leading newspapers in the state; but it is the common experience of educators of the blind everywhere that this alone is insufficient. So great is the not unnatural reluctance of parents to entrust their afflicted and comparatively helpless children to the care of strangers, even for the invaluable acquirement of an education, that many of them have to be urged to the performance of their duty by personal appeals from ourselves or their more immediate friends who happen to be acquainted with the workings of the institution. In order, then, to have ourselves brought into communication with such parents, a circular letter was addressed to each of the township trustees throughout the State, asking them to forward to us the name and age of every blind person within his district, not over twenty-one or under eight years of age, together with the name and postoffice address of the father, mother or other caretaker of the same. Less than one-fourth of the gentlemen thus addressed favored us with responses; but even from the few that did so, we received information that led to the admission of quite a number of new pupils. Had all responded to our request, we would undoubtedly have had, ere this, applications for more than enough to fill our school to its present capacity.

As was shown in a former report, there can not be less than two hundred and fifty blind children of school age in the State, and it is greatly to be regretted that more than half these should, through lack of public interest in their well-being, be permitted to grow up in helpless ignorance. Humanity demands not only that the present capacity of our institution should be kept exhausted, but likewise, that it should be sufficiently enlarged to enable us to care for all who need its privileges. While the blessing of education is withheld from a single blind child within our State boundaries, an important Christian duty is neglected.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT.

No change having taken place in the course of instruction or methods employed in the Literary and Music departments since the date of the last report, nothing further need be written under this head than to assure your board that the usual satisfactory progress has been made by the pupils.

HANDICRAFT DEPARTMENT.

The workshops for the male pupils continue to be conducted with efficiency upon the contract system adopted some years since, and every year's experience with it adds strength to the favorable convictions heretofore expressed upon several occasions. For some time ours was the only institution of the kind to abandon the old plan of salaried instructors, but our example is now being followed, wholly or in part, by many others, and the system is growing in favor.

As the Institution has no pecuniary interest in the operations of the shops, we have no financial or other exhibit to make here concerning them. The female branch of the department, however, is still necessarily conducted upon the original plan, and we therefore present below the usual tabular statements:

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS.

With the small appropriation made for the purpose by the last Legislature, the north block of the Institute premises has been greatly improved by the substitution of a neat, substantial picket fence upon its three street boundaries, for the old, dilapidated one that so long detracted from its appearance. An iron fence would have been more appropriate to the nature of the grounds, as well as more durable, but the appropriation was insufficient for one of that character.

In addition to the improvement just mentioned, the roof of the shop-building has been remodeled and covered with slate, the old shingle roof having yielded so far to the ravages of time as to afford but little protection to the interior ; and the remainder of the structure as well has been put in a thorough state of repair. This work was so imperatively demanded by just principles of economy, as well as a due regard for compatibility with the sightliness of the rest of the premises, that it seemed unwise to longer defer it, especially in view of the opportunity it afforded for utilizing the upper story of the building in the way of dormitory accommodations for some twenty-five or thirty additional pupils. Accordingly, with the co-operation of the Governor and the other State officers, with whom counsel was taken in advance, it was decided to expend upon it a portion of last year's appropriation, that we found ourselves able through a rigid system of retrenchment to set aside for that purpose.

The building now presents a fine appearance externally, harmonizing with its beautiful surroundings, and the added sleeping rooms, which of course are designed for male pupils, are as comfortable as any in the main building, being neat, commodious and well ventilated.

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. CHURCHMAN,

Superintendent.

APPENDIX E.

TO THE PUBLIC.

INDIANA INSTITUTE FOR THE EDUCATION OF THE BLIND.

This Institution is located at Indianapolis, the capital of the State, occupying a healthful and beautiful site in the northern part of the city.

It is strictly an educational establishment, having for its object the moral, intellectual and physical training of the young blind of both sexes residing in the State, and is, therefore, neither an asylum for the aged and helpless, nor a hospital for the treatment of disease.

We are almost daily in receipt of applications for persons who wish to be treated for the cure of blindness, and we here take occasion to explain, for the benefit of such, that we have no surgical or medical department connected with our Institution.

For the information of applicants and other interested parties, the following compilation is made from the regulations of the Institution, viz:

1. The school year commences on the first Wednesday after the 15th day of September, and closes on the last Wednesday in June following, making a continuous session of forty weeks, and leaving a vacation of twelve weeks during the warm season.

2. As a rule, applicants who are under nine or over twenty-one years of age are not admitted; but exceptions are sometimes made in peculiar cases, at the discretion of the Board of Trustees.

3. No person of imbecile or unsound mind, or of confirmed immoral character, will be knowingly admitted into the Institution, and in case any pupil shall, after a fair trial, prove incompetent for useful instruction, or disobedient to the regulations of the Institution, such pupil will be thereupon discharged.

4. No charge is made for the boarding or instruction of pupils from the State of Indiana, but those from without the State are charged at the rate of $200 per session of forty weeks, payable in advance, i. e., one-half at the beginning, and the other half at the middle of the session.

5. All are required to come provided with an adequate supply of good, comfortable clothing, embracing suitable articles for both summer and winter wear, in such quantity as to admit of the necessary changes for washing and repairing.

6. Each article of clothing shall be distinctly marked with the owner's name, in order to prevent confusion or loss, and must be sent in good condition, not only upon the first entrance of the pupil, but also at each subsequent return from home after the vacations.

7. In cases where the parents or guardians of pupils, from the State of Indiana, are unable through indigence to supply them with the necessary clothing, the same is, by law, provided by the Institution, and the amount of its cost collected from the respective counties in which such pupils reside; like provision is also made for defraying the traveling expenses of indigent pupils to and from the Institution.

8. It is positively required that every pupil shall be removed from the Institution during the annual vacation of the school, as well as at any other time when such removal may be deemed necessary by the proper officers thereof; and in case of the failure of the friends of any pupil to comply with this requisition, provision is made by law for the sending of such pupil to the trustee of the township in which he or she resides, to be by him provided for at the expense of the county.

9. Persons bringing pupils to the Institution, or visiting them while here, can not be accommodated with boarding and lodging during their stay in the city.

10. All letters to the pupils should be addressed to the care of the Institution, in order to insure their prompt delivery.

11. Persons wishing to procure the admission of pupils, should apply to the Superintendent, by letter or otherwise, for printed instructions as to the manner of procedure, and no pupil should be sent to the institution until such instructions shall have been complied with.

Superintendent.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

To His Excellency,

The Governor:

SIR: We have the honor to present herewith the Annual Report of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, for the year ending October 31, 1877.

But little has occurred during the year out of the ordinary routine of business.

The number of inmates accommodated and treated has been larger than ever before reported for any year, the wards at all times having been filled to their fullest capacity; notwithstanding which many have had to be turned away, for whom admission has been earnestly solicited. The statute, however, has been complied with, and no case coming within the legal limitations of the class named "recent" has been refused. The management therefore look with satisfaction to the approaching time when all the insane of the State shall be amply provided for, and the hospital will not be compelled to return to friends and communities persons who can be at best but illy cared for—persons who are often disorderly, and always dangerous.

The pro rata of appropriation for the maintenance of the hospital having been reduced by the General Assembly at its last session, we have deemed it prudent to reduce the wages of the various employes, and have done so, at the rate of from ten to twenty per cent., thereby lessening the annual payment for salaries and wages about six thousand dollars per year. We have also found it necessary to reduce the ratio for subsistence—articles of food and incidental materials, such as soap, brooms, brushes, towels, table furniture, and such conveniences as could possibly be compressed, to a sum within twenty cents per day for each person maintained, being five cents per day less than former rates. A further reduction we shall find necessary for the winter months on account of the necessarily increased expenditure for coal, gas, and sundry other articles, all of which will bring the cost of patients, exclusive of clothing, to about $3.75 per week for each, which is below the rate of maintenance of most of the better institutions of the kind in this country, and the lowest possible rate at which a good hospital can be maintained and properly conducted, consistent with the requirements of a scientific and humane management, much that is regarded as desirable having under these conditions to be dispensed with.

Statistics setting forth the condition, working and results of the hospital for the year will be found in the accompanying report of the superintendent, to which we respectfully refer you. We take pleasure in attesting the efficiency and good conduct of the superintendent and his corps of resident officers, none having failed in the performance of any required duty.

Trusting that our management of an affair so weighty has met with your approval, as the chief executive of the State and guardian of the welfare of all its institutions, we shall continue to receive with pleasure and consideration in future any suggestions or recommendations your excellency may choose to make respecting our important charge, and remain,

Yours to command,

P. H. JAMESON,

GEORGE T. CHITTENDEN,

JOHN T. RICHARDSON.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the honorable Board of Commissioners for the Indiana Hospital for the Insane:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor of submitting the following report covering the conduct of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane for the year ending October 31, 1877.

MOVEMENT OF POPULATION.

	Men.	Women.	Total.
Number remaining November 1, 1876...	300	300	600
Admitted in the year	258	219	477
Discharged and died in the year.....	246	217	463
Remaining October 31, 1877.....	312	302	614

For further particulars see tabular statements appended.

The daily average population has been greater than ever before reported for any year. This has been practicably unavoidable, the pressure for admission, and especially for retention of chronic cases, being too importunate to withstand while there is yet room for an extra bed in the house. During the warm months the daily average was over 620 inmates. As winter approaches, and windows have to be closed and fresh air excluded to a certain extent, this number will have to be reduced for hygienic reasons pertaining to the general health of the household.

MAINTENANCE.

The action of the General Assembly by which the appropriation for maintenance was materially reduced below previous expenditures and my carefully made estimate of necessities, threatened serious embarrassment for the seven months of the year provided for on the new basis; but recognizing the necessity imposed by the marginless limitation of the law, I have been conducting the hospital accordingly, upon the plans and gauge indicated as the wish of the people by their representatives, who are the parties interested, and have accomplished all that could be fairly demanded under the circumstances.

No marked discomfort of a population whose infirmities preclude the possibility of circumstantial satisfaction has been observable, and, thanks to a somewhat more liberal "repair fund," their condition in some respects has been improved.

I deem it proper to say, however, that in my opinion a more liberal scale of wages for those employed in the more immediate care of the insane, both professional and non-professional, and a dietary embracing a greater variety and a better selection of the elements of nutrition, together with a multitude of minor expenditures amounting to a considerable sum in the aggregate, would be not only desirable, but advisable.

OUR RESOURCES HAVE BEEN:

On hand November 1, 1876.....	$ 56,419 41
Appropriated seven months	75,000 00
Clothing account to April 1, 1877.....	17,227 35
	$148,646 76

OUR EXPENDITURES HAVE BEEN,

As shown by vouchers on file in the office of the Auditor of State, (a complete list of which will be found in the annexed appendix,) $148,468.60, leaving a balance of $765.86 in the treasury. This figure is, however, subject to correction, by an accurate adjustment of balances with the treasury, running back for many years, which will not affect the general result materially.

REPAIRS.

Important repairs have been made within the year, the more expensive of which consist of new machinery, by which the water feeding the boilers and domestic supplies is heated by "exhaust steam," which heretofore had been wasted in the open air; a complete renovation of the rear center building from roof to basement, including the construction of a new and capacious drying apparatus for the laundry; a rear stairway, communicating with the fifth story of the administration building, for the convenience and fire escape of servants; and nearly a thousand feet of old, long since decayed and leaking gutter and cornice has been replaced by new, galvanized iron work, with greatly increased capacity for drainage; the cupolas have all been recovered and inclosed, and the usual, almost endless, roof and ceiling repairs have been carried on; and last, but not least, the few remaining cells or dark rooms of the north wing have been converted into ordinary rooms by the introduction of windows admitting light and air.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The general conduct of affairs in hospital has never been better. The house has been kept in good order, and every sanitary law has been executed, so far as understood and practicable.

We had to sink some additional driven wells for supplies of drinking water, and at one time were threatened with a failure of the general supply, by reason of the dry weather and its effect upon Eagle creek, a possibility contemplated with consternation but escaped with gratitude.

Steps should be taken at an early day—certainly before the department for women, which will double the demand for water, is opened,—to render our water supply ample and permanent, beyond contingencies of the seasons.

The hospital ought to own and control the lot of “bottom land” adjoining the hospital farm on the south and west, including the bank of Eagle creek, containing eighteen or twenty acres, useful and needed for pasturage as well as for water privileges, the purchase of which is earnestly recommended.

The farm has been well cultivated and usually productive, as will be seen by the steward’s report annexed.

OBLIGATIONS.

The hospital is under obligations to many publishers of newspapers and magazines for gratuitous copies of their journals, which are received by the patients with marked enjoyment.

I have also to acknowledge the receipt of cash donations from friends of patients to the amount of $945.00, and have expended from the same $876.08, as follows:

Bowen & Stewart, books.....	$ 78 50
Bradshaw, organ.....	518 58
H. Lieber & Co., pictures	100 00
Ben. Gresh, music.....	60 00
Expenses traveling—self, Dr. Chittenden.....	119 00
	$876 08

With a continued sense of obligation to your board for counsel, direction and support, and grateful acknowledgment of wide-spread evidence of approbation on the part of the public respecting the conduct of the hospital and its general improvement from year to year, I can only hope that the future may continue to justify such expressions as constitute a more satisfactory compensation than the meager salary in dollars and cents which the State awards.

I have the honor to remain,

Yours to command,

ORPHEUS EVERTS,
Superintendent.

STEWARD'S REPORT.

The hospital farm for the year ending October 31, 1877, has been ordinarily productive.

As nearly as I can estimate, the aggregate value of productions has been.....	$3,635 25
Cost of producing.....	2,400 00

Net	$1,235 25

All of which has been consumed by the hospital, or is on hand for current use.

ACCOUNT OF INCIDENTAL FUND.

On hand October 31, 1876.....	$2,620 82
Received balances from superintendent.....	2,035 37
Received from sales of hides, tallow, etc	6,143 94

	$10,800 13
Expended.....	11,200 67

Due me October 31, 1877.....	$400 54

This fund and expenditure should not be considered as additional to the general expense of maintenance of the hospital for the year, as the material sold—hides, tallow, slop-fed hogs, etc.—were paid for by the general fund, and that expenditure is already embraced in the account current of the hospital.

A list of vouchers on file in my office, covering the expenditure of the fund, is herewith appended.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. PATTERSON,
Steward.

To the Superintendent.

MANAGERS' REPORT.

OFFICE OF THE INDIANA
REFORMATORY INSTITUTION FOR WOMEN AND GIRLS,
INDIANAPOLIS, IND., October 31, 1877.

To His Excellency, JAMES D. WILLIAMS,

Governor of Indiana:

SIR: The Board of Managers of this Institution have the honor herewith to transmit to you this, their sixth annual report, for the ten months ending October 31, 1877.

On the twelfth of March we entered upon the duties assigned us by an act of our last Legislature, approved by you March 3, 1877, by which act the general supervision and government of this Institution was vested in a Board of Managers consisting of Mrs. Eliza C. Hendricks, Mrs. Rhoda M. Coffin and Mrs. Emily A. Roache, and by the said act and approval they, the above named, were duly appointed to that charge to serve the time assigned to each, respectively, by that act.

This being the only governmental prison known—either in the United States or Europe, under the entire management of women—we have felt the responsibility of our position and have sought to so discharge the trust assigned to us as to ensure success to the institution and to be an honor to our State, which has thus taken the advance step of assigning to woman the privilege of caring for, elevating and reforming her own sex. At our first meeting the board was organized by the appointment of Mrs. Rhoda M. Coffin as President.

With your kind interest and valuable assistance we rejoice to be able to report that the institution is in a good condition.

Owing to the appropriation made by our last Legislature being so limited, we have been obliged to dispose of many more of the girls in the reformatory than would have been best under other circumstances. Those who are under age are discharged on "Ticket-of-Leave," subject to our recall when thought best.

The Superintendent seeks to keep up a correspondence with the girls who are discharged as far as practicable, by which it appears many of them are leading useful and industrious lives. In most cases the years of evil habits and associations have so obliterated the finer sensibilities of womanhood, that it will require long continued, prayerful labor to remould the character; but by a thorough system of training—throwing around them those influences which are of an elevating and beneficial character—we hope to send them forth, with some strength at least, to resist the temptations to which this class is exposed. To effect this we consider is the prime object of this institution. The results already accomplished are, we are fully aware, difficult to estimate, and can not be told in words or given in figures.

All the girls attend school half of each day, alternately, by divisions, so as to enable the officers to carry on the various objects of industry. The school has been well conducted, and much credit is due the faithful teacher who has from the first opening of the institution, had charge of it. It has been our object to give to each in this department a good common school education. A few have shown marked aptitude in learning, and some have been employed in the primary department as teachers, with good success, enabling us to dispense with the assistant teacher.

PENAL DEPARTMENT.

The past year has been one of remarkable health, good order and prosperity. The discipline is mild but firm, and by the thorough system which has been established, and the almost ceaseless vigilance of our valued Superintendent, and her faithful and efficient assistant, this department has been placed on a standard which will compare favorably with any other prison in the civilized world. We have no faith in the permanency of a reformation that is not founded on a Christian basis—a thorough change of heart. But closely connected with the efforts to effect this is the wholesome discipline which labor always brings. Idleness is one of the most fruitful sources of crime, and laziness its twin sister. These are two mighty evils with which we have to contend. Constant employment is therefore an absolute necessity, that they may be taught the means of earning an honest livelihood. We have found great difficulty in procuring remunerative employment owing to the low price of labor. From information received a number of those who have left are making good and reliable house servants.

An evening school is taught by one of the older girls of the reformatory, and is an interesting feature of the work, about forty avail themselves of this privilege.

Believing that great benefit would be derived from having a sufficient number of cows to supply the needs of the household with milk, we have purchased accordingly; and being limited in grounds suitable, have caused an inexpensive fence to be placed across the north part of the lawn. The result has been all that we anticipated. There has been a marked difference in the health of the younger girls produced by the free use of the milk, besides furnishing useful employment for the older girls and increasing their efficiency as servants. A portion of the lawn has also been appropriated for a garden, which has been of practical use in furnishing healthful exercise for the girls and food for the table. We have sought by these means in some measure to contribute to the support of the institution and lessen the heavy expense which this institution must always be upon the State.

The drainage not having been completed so as to connect with the sewerage of the city, deleterious influences have arisen to those by whom we are surrounded, causing much complaint, and that justly. But having no funds set apart for improvements, and the appropriation for our current expenses being so excessively limited that with the strictest economy we fear we shall not be able to close the coming year without indebtedness, we have not dared to make the needed improvements. We have, however, remedied the difficulty somewhat, temporarily, but at considerable expense, by having the cesspools and drainage cleansed.

A liberal donation of trees and shrubbery, presented by S. A.

Fletcher, Jr., (President of the former board) has been thankfully received, and adds much to the appearance of the grounds. These were all planted by our girls, and the larger part are growing nicely. We acknowledge with gratitude this kind token of interest.

It is with regret that we are unable to discharge some outstanding debts for improvements, incurred by the former board, and for which no provision is made.

We congratulate ourselves upon having secured the services of honest, efficient officers, all of whom we believe have sought to perform their services faithfully. The utmost harmony has prevailed, we believe, in every department.

Accompanying this report, and as a part of the same, we submit the Superintendent's report and tables, together with the report of the Physician, Dr. Theophilus Parvin, to which we refer you for a detailed account of our receipts and expenditures.

By the Superintendent's tables it will be seen that our entire resources for the ten months were $22,582.94. Of this $10,887.62 had been expended by the former board prior to April 1, 1877, leaving us $11,695.32, for the seven months from April 1, 1877, to October 31, 1877, or $1,813.61 as the proportion for each month. Our disbursements for the ten months were $22,582.94, which being the amount to our credit, exactly closed our account with the State treasury, leaving no balance. The amount appropriated by the last Legislature for current expenses for the fiscal year, beginning November 1, 1877, and closing October 31, 1878, was $21,500, or at the rate of $1,791.66 per month. As this is less than we have been able to live upon the last seven months, with an increasing family we feel doubtful of our ability to bring our expenses within the limits of the appropriation.

Respectfully submitted,

RHODA M. COFFIN,
ELIZA C. HENDRICKS,
EMILY A. ROACHE,

Board of Managers.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Managers:

LADIES—After the appropriations were made by the last Legislature, fears were entertained that ours was not adequate to the size of the family.

As suggested by the State Officers, we reduced (in the Reformatory Department) by finding homes and sending to friends fifty of the older girls; but the increase in the penal department makes the family just the same in number this year as at the date of our last report.

Accounts from the girls sent out are very gratifying, so that we feel how impossible it is to estimate the value of an institution which lends a helping hand to rescue the girl on the verge of ruin, surrounded with wiles beyond the power of pen to portray. Our great aim has been to teach them the true nobility of work, and that an outward display does not constitute womanhood. These false ideas too often make them an easy prey, not only to designing men, but to base women, who luxuriate on the price of the deceived. Nearly all attend school, and many are making rapid progress. Those preparing to leave the institution, having been in the school, are devoting their time to household duties; they are taught washing and ironing as a specialty, cooking and those household duties which will fit them to enter life. The care of the garden and cows has proved a very healthful and profitable employment, marked by the improved appearance of the girls.

We are aware that some branch of manufacture (had we the facilities) would be more remunerative, but the practical result, in after life, is doubtful, as most manufactories are carried on in large cities, the very place we avoid in seeking homes.

In pursuing the good work we can adopt the language of a member of the former Board:

“Many instances of hopeful reformation might be cited, where those who entered the institution almost totally depraved have left it to become useful and worthy members of society. In short, a most important work is being accomplished by this Reformatory, both in the salutary discipline of those confined for crime and the reclamation of young girls from the paths of sin—a work which will tell on the generations to come, and be a credit to the name of Indiana, and tend to place her in the foremost rank among her sister States.”

PENAL DEPARTMENT.

The discipline in this department, under the care of the Assistant Superintendent, is unsurpassed, kindness being invariably found to be the important lever in touching the hardened heart, upon the change of which depends the great question whether they return to society better or worse for their prison life. Emergencies do arise which demand prompt, firm and decisive action, but no outbreak or runaway having occurred, we are encouraged to pursue the plan for which the institution was designed, “Reformation of character.”

Regular employment has been furnished, but we regret to find our improved system of laundry work not so remunerative to the State, though helpful in procuring good homes and wages to those who understand it. Knitting socks for the Southern Prison has been very helpful in employing those unfitted for hard labor, but with our increasing family it is becoming a grave question how to furnish profitable hand-labor, and no reformation can be effected without it.

Our Sabbath services are regarded as a great benefaction. The kindness of Mr. Wilson Morrow and his co-laborers in so faithfully attending and conducting them, is truly gratifying. Numerous letters from those who have left us say “God bless Mr. Morrow; it was through his preaching I found the Savior.”

Sickness among the officers has made some changes necessary, but in every department they have labored to discharge the arduous duties devolving upon them.

The calls upon our faithful physician have been promptly attended to, and we highly appreciate his services. We succeeded in securing the services of an efficient secretary.

Our library greatly needs replenishing, as no addition has been made for two years. It is an acknowledged fact that good reading is invaluable, not only in remolding the character, but as a discipline to the mind.

Accept my warmest thanks for the confidence reposed in me, with gratitude to our heavenly father for his watchful care over us.

Herewith I submit the classification of expenses for the ten months beginning December 31, 1876, and ending October 31, 1877, together with a statement of resources and warrants drawn by me upon the allowances made by you; the itemized statement of the monthly allowances; statement of the receipts and expenditures of the working fund; statement of accounts rendered the counties on account of clothing; statement of cash balance on hand; tables of penal and reformatory departments; statistics, etc.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

SARAH J. SMITH,
Superintendent.

ANNA DUNLAP,

Secretary.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 31, 1877.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

TO THE BOARD OF MANAGERS:

LADIES—During the past year of the Reformatory there has been quite as much sickness as in any one of the three previous years. Very little of this sickness was of a serious character. There have been two deaths in the year, one in the Penal and one in the Reformatory Department. Susetta Christopher, a convict from Lawrence county, died on the 7th of February, her death in part consequent upon injuries received before her admission. Rachel Mackey, a colored girl about twelve years of age, died last May, after several months' illness, from pulmonary consumption.

I am greatly indebted to my friend, Dr. Lyons, of this city, for important operations skilfully and successfully performed upon the eyes of two of the inmates, who otherwise might have lost their sight.

It is not necessary for me to say a word in commendation of the faithfulness with which the sick have been cared for by the resident officers of the Institution, nor to testify to the uniformly pleasant relations between those officers and myself during my four years of service.

Yours, respectfully,

THEOPHILUS PARVIN,

Physician to the Ind. Ref. Inst. for Women and Girls.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

Governor James D. Williams:

SIR: The Board of Trustees of the Soldiers', Sailors' and Orphans' Home of Indiana, would respectfully report the condition of the Institution under their care, for the year ending October 31, 1877.

The past year has been one of the most eventful in the history of the Institution over which they have control since its establishment. The close of the year 1876 left the Home in a most prosperous and happy state. Kind, careful government of the children, thorough training in the schools, and the best possible example from all connected with the Institution, has had the effect to raise the standard of good conduct far in advance of what it had ever been in its previous history.

Thus, pleasantly, time passed on to the first of February, 1877. The benevolent committee of the General Assembly made an appointment to visit the Institution on a set day. Dr. M. M. Wishard, the Superintendent, was in Indianapolis the day before the expected visit, and started home, as was supposed, to prepare for the reception of those gentlemen. To the surprise and alarm of those having charge, on the arrival of the company at the Home, Dr. Wishard was not there, nor could his absence be accounted for. Efforts were at once put forth to find his whereabouts, and many days of painful anxiety were spent in a vain search for his person. On the fourteenth of February, telegrams were received from New Orleans conveying the sad intelligence that he had committed suicide in that city early on the morning of that day.

Thus passed away one of the most energetic, honest, devoted, Christian men of the State. His sole aim seemed to be to raise the character and standing of the Institution over which he had control from its infancy, to the highest possible standard of perfection. On all occasions, either by night or day, when his services were in demand, he was at his post, and aided by his devoted and faithful wife, the Matron of the Home, was incessant in his labors to cultivate and improve the condition of the hundreds of children committed to his charge. His efforts were not in vain, as scores will testify in all coming time. These labors severely tested the health of Dr. Wishard during the fall and early winter of 1876. His immediate friends could detect the wearing effects upon his mind, and fears were entertained that he could not long withstand the severe pressure which he was passing through; yet no one could have anticipated the tragic result that occurred. A good and faithful man has passed to his reward. After years of labor and trial his rest is peaceful.

Immediately on the death of Dr. Wishard, the Board met in special session and appointed the Rev. R. F. Brewington temporary superintendent, until such time as a permanent appointment could be made, Mrs. L. B. J. Wishard continuing to discharge the duties of Matron, which position she had so long and faithfully filled. This condition of affairs continued until the regular monthly meeting in August, 1877, when the Board elected Dr. W. B. McGavern, a citizen of Knightstown, as Superintendent, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Dr. M. M. Wishard.

In the election of Dr. McGavern to the place of Superintendent of the Orphans' Home, the Board feel that they have been fortunate in securing the services of an energetic, faithful, Christian gentleman—one that will discharge the duties with careful economy, and be able to sustain the high character the Institution attained under his predecessor.

Dr. McGavern will take the position November 1, 1877.

It is due to Acting Superintendent Brewington to say that he took charge of the Home when it was in its most prosperous state, and that he carried it forward to the close of his term to the entire satisfaction of the Board; that his government was creditable, and by his care and economy in the management of the finances, he very largely reduced the expenses of the Institution; that the thanks of the Board are hereby tendered to him for the faithful and earnest manner in which he discharged his duties.

On the night of the ninth of September, 1877, at or near 11 o'clock, the building was discovered to be on fire in the attic. There were at the time about two hundred and thirty children in the building, besides over thirty employes. The alarm was carefully communicated to the children under the supervision of the officers and employes, and they were mustered and marched out with such clothing as they could hastily gather up before leaving the burning building.

The Superintendent, Teachers, Matron and Governesses all united in the single effort to save the lives of the children, and to their great credit not a child was lost nor suffered the least injury. So intent were they all engaged that all thought of saving personal effects was lost sight of in the efforts to save the lives of the children. The loss was very severe on several of the ladies, saving only what they had on their persons at the time.

Superintendent Brewington lost a valuable library, all his clothing, valuable papers, etc. Mrs. Wishard lost nearly all of her personal property, with valuable mementoes, which she had been years in collecting.

The children were left less than half clothed, which required an immediate and large expenditure of money to properly clothe them so that they could as far as possible be sent to their homes. The number was reduced to about one hundred, which the Trustees were compelled to provide for, their friends not being able to care for them. By using the large school building for a lodging house and the erection of a temporary dining room and kitchen, those left have been made comparatively comfortable. The large brick building had an insurance on it of $20,000, the policies payable to the Trustees. Within twenty days after the fire all the insurance was paid, less the discount of interest for the time allowed the companies in which to adjust losses. With this money, by the advice of yourself and the State officers, contracts have been let for the rebuilding of the Institution. Rapid progress is being made, and the Board feel assured that by the opening of spring they will be able to again accommodate, comfortably, the little sufferers who were so suddenly deprived of their comfortable Home. No efforts will be spared, on the part of the Board, to reinstate the buildings and make the Institution in all respects what it was before the fire.

The Board would suggest to Your Excellency that the officers and employes, having so nobly and faithfully done their duty in the saving of the lives of the children, deserve and are entitled to the highest praise from the people of the State; that their heavy pecuniary losses, which they have sustained, should be recognized and paid to them by the proper authorities of the State. This would be but simple justice to faithful servants, most of whom lost all they possessed.

For a full statement of the financial condition of the Home, they would refer you to the report of Acting Superintendent Brewington, herewith transmitted, where you will find a very complete, and they trust, satisfactory exhibit.

In conclusion, permit the Board of Trustees to thank Your Excellency most cordially for the warm interest you have manifested toward the Orphans' Home, and for the many acts of kindness which you and the officers of the State, who are associated with you, have shown the Institution with which we are connected. The recollection of these many favors will long be cherished by

Yours very truly,

GEORGE SANFORD,
ELLISON WILLIAMS,
WILLIAM HANNAMAN,
Trustees.

OCTOBER 31, 1877.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

INDIANA SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' HOME, }
KNIGHTSTOWN, INDIANA, October 31, 1877. }

To the Board of Trustees :

GENTLEMEN :—Having been called by you to occupy the responsible position of Superintendent of this Institution from February 14th until the close of the current year, October 31, it becomes my duty to submit to you the annual report.

Permit me, however, before entering upon a detailed statement of the condition of the Home to pay a just tribute to the memory of the late Superintendent, Dr. M. M. Wishard. From the date of the organization of the Home until the time of his death, February 14, 1877, he had performed the duties of Superintendent of the Institution. And it is not too much to say that to this one work he devoted the active energies of a busy life. I need not enlarge upon the faithful manner in which the duties of his office were performed, as you, gentlemen of the Board of Trustees, were intimately associated with him in his work, and can bear testimony to his zeal and efficiency.

NUMBER OF INMATES.

The report for the month of October shows the total number belonging to the Institution to be two hundred and eighty-one (281.) Of these, sixty-three (63) were admitted during the year. Many other applications for admission were made during the year, and but for the disastrous fire occurring in September, a portion of these would have been received.

HEALTH OF THE INMATES.

Under the blessing of a kind Providence, the year has been one of unusual health. None of the children have died during the year, and there has been but little serious illness: This favorable showing we regard as a matter of sincere congratulation, and is doubtless due, in large measure, to the careful supervision of those in immediate charge of the children, and to the regular habits of life on the part of all the inmates.

FARM PRODUCTS.

The labor bestowed in this department has been rewarded with a bountiful harvest. Twenty-five acres of ground were cultivated, producing a good variety and an abundant supply of vegetables. The labor done in the garden and fields was, to a large extent, performed by the older boys, under my supervision; a much smaller amount than usual having been expended for extra help.

NEW BARN.

The condition of the old structure being such that it would no longer afford the necessary accommodation, a new barn, 32 by 56 feet, was erected at a cost of $1,000. The building is of first-class material, with slate roof, well arranged and adapted to its intended use.

BURNING OF THE HOME BUILDING.

The eighth of September was rendered a memorable day in the history of the Home by the burning of the main building. At a quarter before eleven o'clock P. M., an alarm was given that the building was on fire. When discovered, the fire had already made such progress that all hope of saving the building was at once abandoned, and all were summoned to the work of rescuing the inmates. This was no small task, as the children were nearly all sleeping soundly. But with the united efforts of all in charge of the children, they were rescued from the flames. The employes of the Home deserve much praise for their unselfish devotion to the one work of saving life. Giving themselves wholly to that work, they lost almost all their personal effects. Nearly all the furniture and the children's clothing were burned.

The fire is supposed to have had its origin in the kitchen range flue, as it was first discovered in the roof. Unusual care had been exercised to guard against accident from fire. New furnace flues and fire escapes had been erected during the year. A careful inspection of the building at half past nine o'clock that evening failed to give any warning of approaching disaster.

The school building was at once fitted up for a dwelling, and a temporary building erected for dining-room and kitchen. With these, and some smaller buildings not destroyed, we will be able to keep, with comparative comfort, one hundred of the children. About one hundred and forty have already been sent out to temporary homes, where they will be compelled to remain until the Home can be rebuilt.

As soon as the extent of the damage to the building could be ascertained, the insurance companies, with commendable promptness, paid to the Board of Trustees the sum of $20,000 insurance. With that amount at your disposal, the work of rebuilding was begun; which work, I trust, you will be enabled to prosecute to a speedy and successful completion.

SCHOOLS.

The school year ending June 15 was one of interest and profit. The schools were better supplied than ever before with suitable text books. The teachers labored, in their various departments, with zeal and industry, and as a result, the children showed an advancement creditable both to teachers and pupils. The present term of school began September 3, with the same teachers in charge as last year.

Room No. 1, Miss S. M. Bonfoy.

Room No. 2, Miss E. E. Starr.

Room No. 3, Miss A. D. Foxworthy.

Room No. 4, Miss Emma Grey.

After the burning of the building, it was found necessary to dispense with the services of two of the teachers. Miss Bonfoy and Miss Starr were retained and are now in charge of the school, numbering one hundred and ten pupils.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

These have been continued as usual during the year. A good degree of interest has been manifested on the part of a large majority of the inmates. We trust the lessons taught from the word of God, both in the preaching and in the Sabbath-school, have been profitable; and that like good seed sown in good ground, it may spring up to grow into an abundant harvest. For the present we are worshipping in the school building, but we are glad to know that in the plans adopted for the new building, you purpose giving us a commodious and pleasant chapel, thus showing that you have a proper appreciation of the moral and religious instruction of the children.

In closing this portion of my report, I desire to make mention of the efficient services of the Matron, Mrs. L. B. J. Wishard, and of the following named ladies having charge of the various divisions of children:

Mrs. S. D. Hamilton, governess of girls.
 Miss A. S. Hamilton, governess of girls.
 Miss K. B. Thomas, governess of boys.
 Miss Tillie Dilworth, governess of boys.
 Miss Ida Wishard, governess of boys.
 Miss Ella Hubbard, governess of boys.
 Miss Maggie Burt, governess of boys.
 Mrs. Jennie Hiner, in charge of sewing room.
 Miss Anna Byerly, seamstress.

NOTE.—In the annual report of the Auditor of State for the year ending October 31, 1877, $2,604.00 is charged against the Institution for November, 1876, which was accounted for in the preceding annual report. There is also a discrepancy of $97.05 in the report, owing to sale of farm products of that amount, of which the Auditor had no account. With these two exceptions the reports exactly agree.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

To His Excellency, JAMES D. WILLIAMS,

Governor of Indiana :

Section 9 of the act establishing the House of Refuge requires an annual report of the condition of the Institution. With this, the Eleventh Report, we submit the report of the Superintendent, made to us, and the requisite statistics.

In consequence of the change in the fiscal year, made at the last session of the Legislature, this report embraces only a period of ten months ; for three months of this term, ending March 31, 1877, the funds of the Institution were derived from the counties having boys committed to it ; and for the seven months following, the expense has been met by appropriations direct from the State Treasury. This, together with the additional fact that a considerable indebtedness, incurred in 1875, was paid off this year, renders our report more complex than is desirable. To remedy this, and make it as clear as practicable, we have divided the periods of the year, and submit as follows :

We have further to report, that from settlements made with the counties for the support of inmates chargeable to them, from January 1st to April 1st, 1877, there has, at different dates, been paid to the State Treasurer $8,484.56, from which we have paid further amounts of indebtedness made in 1875, amounting to $2,886.39, leaving $5,598.17 available for the settlement of the amount of the claims against the Institution held by the American Rattan Company, the liability on which will remain in some doubt until the suits now pending against the former Superintendent, F. B. Ainsworth, shall have been tried, or payment made by him of the amount found due the State in a compromise settlement made December 8, 1876. Should there be found no liability on the part of the State, the amount will properly go into the general treasury of the State.

At the date of our last annual report, it was supposed the Institution would come into possession of a certain tract of land, valued at $5,500, and receive a payment of $3,532.30 in cash, in settlement of the account of the former Superintendent, Ainsworth, as soon as the ratification by the Legislature could be obtained, enabling us to receive the land in part payment of the sum agreed to be paid by him and his bondsmen. We have been entirely disappointed in this expectation, and suit is now being pressed for the collection of the above amount, and an additional sum which we find to be due the State.

BUILDINGS.

The Legislature, at its last session, appropriated two thousand five hundred dollars for the erection of a Hospital building. We have built and furnished a brick building north of and well removed from the other buildings, fifty-two by thirty-two feet, two stories high, containing physician's room, morgue, janitor's room, and kitchen, on the ground floor, and two patient's rooms, bath room, closet, etc., on the second floor; all well lighted, warmed and ventilated, and supplied with water.

In our report for 1875, we stated: "The condition of the buildings is not satisfactory. They have all been erected with basement rooms, which, from the nature of the soil, are so damp as to be unhealthy, not only to those who are even temporarily employed in them, but also a cause of sickness to the occupants of the rooms above. In the construction of the buildings, sufficient regard was not had to a proper system of ventilation; pure air and cleanliness we consider well nigh indispensable; in fact, the highest success can not be attained until the buildings are properly heated, ventilated, and supplied with bath rooms."

Again, in 1876, we said, with regard to the want of ventilation of the main building, the family houses, and the caning shop: "Of course, had a proper system of ventilation been provided for when the buildings were erected, the expense would have been less than will now necessarily be incurred. The impure and fetid air of the crowded dormitories, and the worse crowded workshop, is most positively pernicious in its effect upon the moral health, no less than upon the physical health and growth of the inmates."

We have felt that we should be censurable and derelict in our duty to these unfortunate wards of the State, did we not, at the earliest possible moment, endeavor to remedy these health destroying defects. Until the past summer we have been unable to make the necessary purchases and improvements for want of the means to do so, because of the embarrassed condition of the finances of the Institution. During the summer months the Hospital building has required what time the Superintendent has had to devote; but we now expect to prepare, before severe winter weather, four of the family buildings, those which are in the worst condition, and the chair shop, so that they will be as well warmed and ventilated as will be practicable, in view of their original construction. The ventilation of the other school rooms and dormitories, and supplying of bath rooms, wash rooms and water, we hope to accomplish next season.

Heretofore two boys, and in very many cases three boys, have been compelled to sleep in one bed. This, with wooden bedsteads (harbors for vermin), and straw beds, saturated and filthy, has added to the foulness of the dormitories, and increased the pernicious habits of the boys. We have now nearly supplied the Institution with single beds, with iron bedsteads and wire mattresses, and we hope soon to have a thorough renovation in this respect. Growing out of all these evil conditions here alluded to, the prevailing tendency of diseases in the Institution has been to those of a zymotic character; those which thrive and grow, under such influences, if they are not really originated thereby—running sores, contagious sore eyes, measles, scarlet fever, typhoid pneumonia. In fact, a typhoid tendency in diseases generally is usually found in crowded public institutions, where there is not an abundance of pure air and water.

This Institution has not been free from this general rule, but a skillful physician, Dr. J. T. Strong, by promptness in taking hold of cases of sickness, has been generally successful, and the number of deaths has been smaller than might have been expected.

WORK.

A very large amount of out-door work has been done by the boys the past summer. The crops of wheat, corn, and oats, have been large and remunerative, while the entire land under cultivation on the creek bottom has been used for potatoes and garden vegetables. We have an abundant supply for the year of potatoes, cabbages, onions, and other vegetables. Should there be a demand, a considerable quantity can be spared for the market.

The work of caning chair seats and backs, employing the most of the boys ranging from six to twelve years of age, has been moderately productive, and we are now able to report the shop, with the exception of the old claim of undetermined liability heretofore spoken of, entirely out of debt, with a good supply of material on hand, and all the capital needed for conducting the business, so that all the earnings in future, beyond material purchased and expenses paid, will be net receipts for the State Treasury. The assets are—

Value of cane on hand.....	$2,394 00
Amount outstanding for work done.....	6,696 73
Net capital invested.....	$9,090 73

We intend, in the main, to confine the out-door work this winter to the clearing off of the land of the Institution, so as to bring it all under cultivation that can be so used. We intend thereby to bring into use from forty to fifty acres of land heretofore unproductive.

SCHOOLS.

The school hours will be increased in the future. We shall make it a point, now that the Institution is not as dependent upon the labor of the boys as it has been, to make the feature of education more prominent.

ESTIMATES.

We have fixed the estimate of expenses for caring for and keeping each inmate the coming year at one hundred and twenty dollars. This estimate by the Board is required by section 20 of the act creating the Institution. We reduced the amount last year from two hundred dollars, the previous estimate, to one hundred and fifty dollars—a reduction of twenty-five per cent., and now we further reduce it twenty per cent.

Number granted Tickets-of-Leave, etc.....	112

The Board has during this year been as liberal as the law would possibly sanction in granting tickets-of-leave to the inmates. We shall watch closely the result of this leniency, and if we find we have erred on the side of mercy, will be obliged to be more rigid and strict in the future.

JOHN P. EARLY,
FINLEY BIGGER,
LEWIS JORDAN,
Board of Commissioners.

PLAINFIELD, November 1, 1877.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Commissioners of the Indiana House of Refuge:

GENTLEMEN—The Legislature, at its last session, having changed the fiscal year of the Reformatory Institutions of the State to correspond with the fiscal year of the State offices, it becomes my duty to submit a report of the condition of this Institution and of its workings from December 31, 1876 (the time of my last report), to October 31, 1877.

CONDITION.

I am pleased to report the Institution in excellent condition. The health of the boys is good, their spirits are cheerful, their clothing is ample and comfortable, and their food is plain but bountiful.

The officers and employes have been very trustworthy, industrious, and diligent; and during the latter part of the term perfect harmony and accord have existed in their intercourse. It gives me pleasure to recommend the present corps of officers as faithful and efficient.

While taking a retrospective view of the past ten months, and carefully comparing operations and results, we find many things for which to be very thankful, and but little over which we should cavil or repine.

EMPLOYMENT.

The boys have been employed in the main as in former years. The greater portion of them have worked in the chair-caning department, while as many as were needed have been employed in the tailor-shop, the shoe-shop, on the farm, in the garden and greenhouse, in the kitchen and dining-rooms, dormitories, school-rooms, etc. We have endeavored, in every department, to utilize the labor of the boys, as far as expedient, with a view to economy, as well as to educate them to habits of industry.

DISCIPLINE.

In the main we have continued the same modes of discipline as described in our last report. From their first entrance into the Institution a careful record is kept of each boy's conduct, and he is given to understand that he must attain what is termed his "Honor" before he can expect to be released. This will require about one year of good conduct. We endeavor to have the discipline firm, but not harsh, nor severe; and in all cases to let the culprit feel that the punishment is just, and that he brings it upon himself, and then be extremely careful not to make it of a degrading character. We find, also, that it is necessary to vary the modes of punishment somewhat, from the fact that any one course, after continued use, is apt to become hardening in its influence.

IMPROVEMENTS.

The two school-rooms and dormitories occupied by families numbers two and three were very uncomfortable, the brick walls being unplastered, the windows uncased, etc., so that they were really unfit to be occupied. Number eight building was also very much out of repair from rough usage. These three buildings were therefore placed in the hands of the carpenter, plasterers, and painters, and thoroughly renovated and repaired. New floors in the school-rooms were laid, new desks, new ceiling, the wood-work painted or grained, the dormitory floors well painted, and in place of the old bedsteads and straw beds we have put single iron bedsteads and woven wire mattresses.

We have repaired fences that were in bad condition, built about one-half mile of new board fence, and put the roads and walks in good condition.

We have erected, at a cost of about three thousand dollars, a fine two-story brick Hospital (thirty-two by fifty-two), on the hill north of the main buildings. This building is supplied with water and modern improvements, and I feel proud to say that for comfort and convenience our Hospital is second to none, and that the care of the sick is now such as will doubtless please the most fastidious. I have expended, during the past ten months, including the two thousand five hundred dollars appropriation for the Hospital, the sum of $6,589.29, for buildings and improvements, which I consider money wisely expended. There are still two more family buildings to be repaired, and then all will be in good condition.

SCHOOLS.

The schools are progressing finely. The boys of the Institution are classified and divided into nine grades, and taught by three thoroughly competent teachers. Each boy is required to attend a session of school daily. We now propose to grade the schools anew, so as to form eight grades, and place them in charge of four teachers, in order that every boy will attend school at least three hours daily.

THE FARM.

In addition to the two hundred and twenty-five acres of land belonging to the Institution, I rented and farmed one hundred and sixty acres belonging to Mr. I. S. Moore. Up to the present year the farm has been in poor condition; the land was run down, the fences were out of order, and the agricultural implements few and of poor quality. I have put forth every effort to place the farm in proper condition, and can report it much improved. We have cleared and cultivated about fifteen acres of new land, which produced an excellent crop of potatoes, corn, onions, etc. The fences have been repaired, and considerable board fence built. The agricultural implements are now ample, and of good quality. A substantial granary has been built, so that the coming year will find us fully prepared to do more and better work on the farm than ever before. I herewith submit a list of implements, horses, etc., now on hand, viz.:

Working-horses.....	14
Buggy-horses.....	3
Wagons (new).....	7
Carriages.....	1

THE GARDEN.

The garden, under the care and management of Mr. S. S. Kilvington, has produced beyond our greatest expectations. The amount of produce raised seems almost incredible. From the twenty acres of bottom land devoted to gardening purposes, the following products were obtained, viz.:

MORAL TRAINING.

In this department we have continued the use of the International Lesson Leaves, as during the past year, with good results. We are greatly indebted to the Rev. J. B. Abbott, of Indianapolis, who has visited the Institution every two weeks during the summer, and labored earnestly for the religious welfare of the boys. His ministrations have been very acceptable to the boys, as well as the officers, and I respectfully recommend that he be retained. I am happy to note a religious growth among the boys.

CHAIR SHOP.

In this department we have caned chair seats and backs for several firms. The gross earnings of the shop, during the past ten months, amounted to the sum of $18,273.55. We have purchased cane amounting to the total sum of $13,971.63.

At the time of my last report, January 1, 1877, there were twenty-nine bales of cane on hand, four bales of which have been returned, thus leaving but twenty-five bales to be accounted for. We have now fifty-six bales of good cane on hand, which, after accounting for the twenty-five bales on hand at the beginning of the year, leaves thirty-one bales as the excess of purchases over the cane actually used. We have then $13,971.63 value of cane purchased, less $1,468.00 value of excess of cane on hand, equals $12,503.63, the value of cane used. We have also paid $584.80 for freights on cane, chair-frames, etc., and $600.00 as the salary of the manager, which would otherwise have been paid out of the appropriation by the State. We have then $18,273.55, less $13,688.43, equals $4,585.12, as the accumulated working capital of the chair-shop for ten months.

We begin the new year with fifty-six bales of cane on hand, and without owing a dollar for cane or anything else belonging to said department. The notes and accounts as assets now belonging to this department, and which would have been turned over to the State Treasury as earnings, if collections could have been made in time, amount to $6,696.73.

For further information in regard to this department, I refer you to the report of the chair-shop manager.

FINANCIAL.

The entire receipts since my last report amount to $57,069.39. Out of this we have paid on the old debts of 1875, for supplies furnished the Institution before I took charge of it, the sum of $11,683.30. I am pleased to state that all the outstanding bills of 1875 are now paid, and the Institution again placed upon a good financial basis.

We have been obliged to repair the buildings, to place new beds in several of the dormitories, and to build a Hospital; all of which have cost $9,818.46. The actual current expenses, therefore, have been but $38,567.63.

CONCLUSION.

With fervent prayers for that Heavenly guidance which is alone able to rightly direct us, and for that Divine grace and help which alone can give us success in this great and noble work,

I remain your obedient servant,

JAMES O'BRIEN,

Superintendent.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

TO JAMES O'BRIEN,

Superintendent Indiana House of Refuge :

SIR—I respectfully submit to you the following report of the Medical Department of this Institution for the current year ending October 31, 1877.

The diseases prevailing in the winter and spring, were pneumonia, bronchitis, congestion of the lungs, consumption of the lungs, intermittent and remittent fevers, and congestion. About the middle of March last, scarlatina made its appearance in the person of a new boy, who was sent, I understand, from Indianapolis. This case was at once diagnosed and isolated. In a few days two other boys were taken with this disease, and were also separated from the other cases of the sick. About the time these boys began to convalesce quite a large number of the boys were taken, and at one time as many as forty-five were down with it at once. Every precaution and preventive was used to keep the disease from spreading through the Institution. There were about one-third of the boys, or one hundred and ten cases. After the subsidence of the disease, there were a few cases of typhoid and typho-malarial fevers in July and August; since which time the sickness has mainly consisted of intermittent and remittent fevers, with a number of cases of conjunctivities.

During the whole of this year, more than in previous years, the Institution has been very much in need of a Hospital, a part of the time the sick being compelled to remain in the crowded dormitories for want of an available room, so over-crowded was the Institution. This want has been relieved in the past few days by the occupancy of the new Hospital building, which is provided with every modern convenience, and is a credit to the Institution. Three colored boys died during the spring of consumption of the lungs, viz.: James Porter, Charles Wilson, and Albert Powell, March 9, March 19, and April 6, respectively. Two other colored boys died of congestion, viz.: Lewis Tinker, April 23d, and Henry C. Graves, May 15. Michael Burke died of pneumonia, March 26; and one boy, Otis V. Wood, died of jaundice, August 10. George Beadle died of scarlet fever, May 11; and this was the only death from scarlet fever out of the one hundred and ten cases. Many of these cases were very severe; a number were complicated with other diseases, or followed by the usual sequela; but all ultimately made good recovery. From the benefit that will be derived from the advantages of a Hospital, we may expect less sickness and better results.

Respectfully submitted,

J. T. STRONG, M. D.

PLAINFIELD, November 1, 1877.

CHAIR SHOP REPORT.

To the Superintendent :

SIR—I present to you the following as a report of the Chair Shop for the ten months ending October 31, 1877.

We have been abundantly supplied with work from the different firms for whom we have been caning, and had we room for a hundred more boys to work, we could have better satisfied the demand made upon us for seats.

We have caned during the ten months past one hundred thousand and five hundred and three seats and backs, which is an increase of five thousand over the twelve months previous, and twenty thousand more than any former full year since the shop was organized.

The tasks have been regularly done, and have not been raised—a large number of the boys making from one half to three-quarters of an hour's time after performing their allotted tasks.

Our caning has been well done, car-load after car-load leaving the Institution, and very few complaints of bad work.

The tools are all in good condition, and a plentiful stock of frames and cane on hand.

Respectfully submitted,

E. H. SHUMWAY.

HOUSE REF—2.

BOYS' LETTERS.

LEESBURG, IND., Dec. 31, 1876.

Bro. O'Brien :

DEAR SIR—I received your ever welcome letter of the 27th, and was glad to hear that all of my former friends and companions were enjoying good health. I am also well, excepting a bad cold. I am still going to school, and am improving fast. I like my school and books very much, and father thinks he will make a teacher of me, and I think a little so myself.

Bro. O'Brien, I have not run around or went out anywhere of nights except with father, or sister Minnie, to church of Sunday nights. We have no Sunday-school here now, so that I either stay at home and read, or stay with my grand-ma.

We had a large Christmas-tree at Galveston, about four and a half miles from home, but I preferred going to bed rather than to the Christmas-tree; so in all probabilities I won a victory over some temptation.

Bro. O'Brien, I still stand firm in the resolution to do right, let come what will. I shall never be able to repay you for all the good you and your officers did me while I was under your care. Many thanks for the valuable advice which I found in your letter. I hope you will continue to send me such letters—it cheers me up and helps me wonderfully.

Please, also, give my best wishes to all the officers, and tell them I should like to hear from them.

Give my warmest love to all my companions, and tell them I shall never forget them.

Well, I will have to come to a close for this time by sending my love and best wishes to the ladies, gentlemen and schoolmates for a New Year's gift.

Enclosed you will find my expired ticket. Please renew it, and with it send me my Christmas gift.

I remain with love your affectionate pupil,

A. H. S.

EVANSVILLE, IND., January 11, 1877.

Bro. O'Brien :

DEAR SIR—I now engage myself a few moments in writing you a few lines.

I am quite busy the most of the time caning chairs. Father is going to get me a scholarship in the Kleiner & Wright College in this city, where I can go to school every night until nine o'clock.

Father feels very proud of me, and my firm determination is to keep on the right track, so that he will never lose his good opinion of me.

With love to all friends at the Institution, I remain,

Your true boy,

J. A.

PARKERSBURG, VA., May 3, 1877.

Dear Superintendent :

Having a few minutes to spare I will improve them by writing you a second letter.

I have been to the post office every evening looking for an answer to a letter I wrote you a few days ago ; not getting one I write you this.

I have been at work every day since I have been home, and am going to be a good boy, and make a man of myself.

Please renew my ticket-o-leave. With love to you and success to the Institution, I remain,

Your boy,

C. M. G.

P. S. The Sunday-schools here are not as good as the one at the school—the scholars do not have their lessons, and can not answer half as many questions.

C. M. G.

LAFAYETTE, IND., March 30, 1877.

Mr. Jas. O'Brien, Plainfield :

SIR—As our boy has a sore finger so that it is difficult for him to hold a pen, he desires me to write for him.

We feel that we have great reason for thankfulness, that through Divine Providence he has been led to realize his need of a Savior, and is now earnestly (as we have reason to believe), striving to walk in the "straight and narrow way."

We have at last succeeded in obtaining a good situation, on a fruit farm, near Lafayette, and he will probably enter upon his duties next week.

We do not feel the hesitancy, in allowing him to go from us now, that we would have had a few months ago, as he has learned where to go for strength and guidance.

I see from the date of his ticket that it is time for its renewal. I would be glad if you would, in exchange, send him one for a longer period than thirty days.

Will desires to be kindly remembered to all. With many thanks to you for your kindness to our boy, I am,

Very respectfully,

M. E. D.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., May 14, 1877.

Bro. O'Brien:

KIND SIR—It is with pleasure I inform you of my success. I have been working all the time, and my employer says that I will make a good workman.

I am always in bed at ten o'clock, and never run around at night, and I find that I am much better off for it. I never had better health.

Give my best respects to all old friends, and believe me an honest boy.

O. C.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., August 19, 1877.

Bro. O'Brien:

DEAR SIR—I take pleasure in writing you a few lines. I have been at home working for my mother, whose health is very poor, and I have secured a position in the heading factory, where I shall go to work to-morrow.

I am endeavoring to be a good boy, and to heed the lessons I learned at the House of Refuge.

I can never forget your kindness to me, and shall always look back to the days spent under your care and guidance as the beginning of what I hope to make a useful life.

From your affectionate boy,

P. M.

BLOOMINGTON, IND., August 22, 1877.

Dear Brother O'Brien :

I have obtained a good place to work, where I get one and one-half dollars per day. Do you still wish me to return when my twenty days are up?

The people here all treat me very kindly, and I should like to stay.

It made a man of me by going to your Institution, and I shall never forget it.

I hope you will always remember me kindly.

Gratefully yours,

W. S.

WESTFIELD, IND., August 22, 1877.

Bro. O'Brien :

DEAR FRIEND—It is with pleasure that seat I myself to write you a small letter.

I am still working in the printing office, learning to be a printer. I want to make you a visit ere long, and see all of my old friends. I am very well, and hope all at the school are as highly favored.

I have no disposition to brag, but I feel conscious that I am, after a long and severe course of training, in which I acted quite a prominent part, a reformed boy. I have no desire to sin now, and I humbly ask God to guide and protect me in all my ways. I have been a very bad boy, and have seen a good deal of wickedness and sinful life, but I believe the morning of a better day is dawning on my life, and for the change I am thankful for the means employed at the Indiana House of Refuge.

I remain as ever your boy,

C. B.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

DIRECTOR'S OFFICE,
NORTHERN INDIANA PRISON,
MICHIGAN CITY, October 31, 1877.

To His Excellency, JAMES D. WILLIAMS,

Governor of Indiana:

SIR:—In obedience to laws governing the penitentiaries of this State, we have the honor to submit to your excellency our annual report of the management and condition of the Penitentiary North for the fiscal year (by recent legislature) ending October 31, 1877.

The present Board of Control met for the first time in executive session at the Prison on the twelfth of March last, at which time Dr. M. G. Sherman, of Michigan City, was elected Physician to the Prison.

The Rev. John P. Nash, of LaGrange county, was appointed Moral Instructor, to take effect on the tenth of April ensuing. At the same time Benjamin Elliott, of Michigan City, was nominated for the position of Steward and confirmed, to fill vacancy occasioned by death of G. McDowell, then recently deceased.

On entering upon our duties our attention was immediately directed to the completion of new cell-house and construction of an additional work-shop, which were both greatly needed, and for which the last legislature had liberally provided, as follows: Appropriating seventy thousand dollars for completion of cell house, and ten thousand for erection of work-shop. A proposition was received from J. H. Winterbotham & Sons, that upon condition that a one-story work-shop should be erected for their use in front and parallel with one now occupied by them, they would hire the labor of fifty additional convicts. Upon mature consideration it was thought advisable to accept their proposition, and moreover, we had reached the conclusion that the interests of the institution would be better subserved by erecting two work-shops rather than investing the appropriation in one shop. We believed that the money appropriated would secure the construction of two good sized shops, and, as the sequel will show, we were not disappointed.

At the second session of the Board, April 11, Thomas W. Miles, of Porter county, was appointed superintendent of construction of the works, and measures were taken to ensure the due publication in two papers in Chicago, Cincinnati and Indianapolis, respectively, inviting written proposals to be received until May 17, noon, for the completion of cell-house, and for the erection of a one-story shop one hundred and sixty feet in length and forty feet wide, and a two-story shop one hundred feet long and forty feet wide. At the time named, and in presence of your excellency, nineteen bids were received and opened. James Lillie, of Allen county, being the lowest bidder, (as follows: $39,300 for completion of cell-house, and $9,200 for construction of shops,) the work was accordingly awarded to him with your approval. Subsequently to the letting and contract entered into with James Lillie, Ford, Johnson & Co. proposed to hire the labor of twenty-five additional convicts upon the condition that they should be permitted to occupy the two-story shop about to be erected, and that the length of same should be increased to one hundred and twenty feet. "Cause beyond our control forced us to curtail the length of the one-story shop to one hundred and fifty feet."

Taking into consideration the decreased length of the one-story shop, the contractor proposed to increase the length of the two-story shop to meet the desires of Ford, Johnson & Co., for the sum of $800.00. To this the board agreed, thus getting the largest possible amount of shop-room for the appropriation.

Before the foundation of the two-story shop was fully laid, the Hon. J. H. Winterbotham, long connected with the prison as contractor, and who always takes a warm interest in its welfare, suggested and urged upon the board the propriety of still enlarging the two-story shop, making the length of same one hundred and fifty feet, thus preserving uniformity of buildings in prison yard, and at the same time occupying a piece of ground, which, if not then utilized, would probably remain for all time useless. We ascertained that the additional thirty feet could be secured for $1,200.00. The officers of the prison and board believed that the State would never again have the opportunity to secure so much shop-room for so little money, with your approbation we authorized the addition of thirty feet, at the price aforementioned, with the understanding that the contractor should look to the next legislature to reimburse him for his work, your excellency having intimated that you would recommend an appropriation for that purpose.

The two shops are now completed and accepted; final estimate paid, leaving $1,200.00 due James Lillie, in manner before stated.

During the visit of your excellency at Michigan City in May last, upon examination, it was found that the foundation to support the outer wall of the new cell-house, was very defective. You advised at that time that the foundation be taken down so far as to insure safety. Your advice in this matter has been followed. We instructed the contractor, under the supervision of the superintendent, to excavate the foundation as might be necessary to insure safety, and replace the same with large dimension stone in a thoroughly workmanlike manner. We would take occasion to say that we believe that the repairing of foundation, and all other work, so far accomplished by Mr. James Lillie, has been well and honestly done.

We have the pleasure of reporting to your excellency that the work in the new cell-house is progressing satisfactorily, and though the work has been somewhat retarded by difficulties in getting materials transported during the late strike, the work is now rapidly approaching completion, and when finished, with the few improvements made and added, will be acknowledged by all to be a model structure of the kind.

The Warden, in his report, asks us to call the attention of your excellency to the propriety of enlarging the prison district of the Penitentiary North. With the completion of the new cell-house there will be seven hundred and sixty separate cells, in a part of which two prisoners might be confined of the better class of convicts, from whom mutual contamination might be the least feared.

We coincide with Mr. Mayne in the belief that one thousand prisoners might be confined within the walls of the prison without injury to health or abridgment of any humane treatment that the law may contemplate or society demand. We therefore offer to your excellency for consideration, the suggestion that public policy may indicate the propriety of enlarging the district of the Penitentiary North to the extent of one tier of counties next south of the present line of demarcation.

The history of the Northern Prison, we think, fully vindicates the wisdom of its location at Michigan City, from its proximity to Chicago, the metropolis of the West, where a constant market for the products of the industries of the prison can always be found. We conclude, predicating the future upon the past, that, with sufficient shop-room, and the maintenance of proper discipline, there will be no trouble in always hiring the convict labor of the prison at the market value.

Having made due publication in May last, the Board entered into contract with J. H. Winterbotham & Sons for the hire of fifty convicts for the term of five years, at forty-five cents per day, and in the month of June entered into contract with Jno. M. Southworth for the hire of twenty-five convicts for the term of five years, at thirty cents per day, the men to be physically able to operate a hand-knitting machine, and in the month of July consummated a contract with Ford, Johnson & Co., for hire of twenty-five convicts for the term of five years, at forty-five cents per day.

The appropriation of $500.00 made by the last legislature for prison library, was expended in June last. The books were purchased at the lowest jobbing prices, and we think are well selected with reference to the wants of the prisoners. The appropriation was timely—the additions made to the library being much needed.

For a length of time past the officers of the prison have been subjected to much annoyance from defective sewerage, the sewer often becoming choked, and backing contents into prison buildings, and we suspect that no small amount of malarial disease that has prevailed amongst the prisoners from time to time, may be traced to that cause.

The Board were gratified to receive consent from your excellency and State officers, for the construction of a new brick sewer, (and which, indeed, is a necessary adjunct to the cell-house,) and authorizing to draw from cell-house appropriation for payment thereof. The Board directed Mr. Mayne to advertise for proposals for the construction of a double ring brick sewer, thirty inches in diameter, commencing from what is known in the prison yard as the "south bucket-house," running north to Fish creek. In pursuance to our instructions, the Warden has let the work at a very low figure, which is progressing favorably under his supervision, and when finished, will meet the wants of the prison in this regard for all time, and we doubt not, will have a beneficial effect upon the sanitary condition of the institution.

In regard to the diet provided for the prisoners, we have no fault to find with the Warden. We believe the fare for the prisoners is sufficiently good, and but reiterate what has been said by our predecessors, when we say an abundance of plain and wholesome food is provided. Coffee is served twice a day, hot, and in quantity to each prisoner ad libitum.

In regard to the question of food, would say that we have taken some pains to investigate the matter, and the conclusion reached is, what are termed good prisoners are satisfied with the fare, while the more turbulent are the grumblers.

We could call the attention of your excellency to the fact that there has been in this prison in the past, and are now, quite a number of convicts, who have become insane, and though exciting the commiseration of the officers of the prison, are to them a source of much trouble. It seems to us an anomalous condition of affairs when men bereft of reason are held in a penal institution.

We respectfully suggest for your consideration the propriety of provision being made by law for the removal of such unfortunate persons to the State Asylum for the Insane, where they can receive proper care and appropriate medical treatment.

We regret to have to say to your excellency in our action, which we believed for the welfare of the prison, questions have arisen in regard to the relative powers of the Board of Directors and the Warden, which have had to be submitted to the courts for adjustment; we, however, are happy to say that those differences have not engendered personal feelings, nor has the interest of the State or penitentiary suffered thereby.

We here take occasion to say, that in all our intercourse with the officers of the prison, that their bearing has been gentlemanly towards us.

In the administration of the prison, the moral forces brought into operation to maintain discipline, are, first, that exercised by the Moral Instructor in presenting religious motives which may control the conduct of prisoners; and, secondly, what is termed "the good time law," (which, under the statute, is very meager,) allowing an abbreviation of sentence for good behavior.

The upholding of discipline, however, seems to rest chiefly upon physical force, and we deem it desirable that the coercive measures resorted to should be as little degrading and humiliating as can possibly be under the circumstances.

We recommend the construction of a suitable number of cells, well ventilated and lighted, apart from the cell-house proper, where offenders against discipline may be confined, placed upon scant diet, and remain until a spirit of subordination is manifested.

We understand that at the Illinois Penitentiary this mode of punishment has been resorted to with satisfactory results. We believe such a mode of punishment is more in harmony with public opinion, and is less demoralizing than resorting to the infliction of stripes, which we think, if resorted to at all, should be in extreme and exceptional cases.

The conveniences now in use at the prison for bathing, are not what we could desire, but trust better means may be devised soon, even should it necessitate the expenditure of a small amount of money to be carried to account of permanent improvement.

Your excellency is aware, that on application to the last Board of Directors, by the contractors of labor in the prison, a concession was made to them reducing the price of labor to forty-five cents per day; we regret to say, as our report shows, we have not been able to place any convict labor at any higher figure. We allude to the above only as explanatory of the financial exhibit the institution is forced to make. We hope, however, in our next report, by rigid economy, to show a more favorable state of things.

The following is a statement of moneys received and disbursed:

Total amount of receipts and earnings of prison proper, from all sources, including $500.00 received from United States for keeping U. S. prisoners, are ($53,663.45) fifty-three thousand six hundred and sixty-three dollars and forty-five cents.

Total amount of disbursements on account of current expenses of prison proper, including $3,000.00 paid on account of officers' salaries, are ($60,978.90) sixty thousand nine hundred and seventy-eight dollars and ninety cents.

Total amount paid on account of State appropriations, are ($39,912.98) thirty-nine thousand nine hundred and twelve dollars and ninety-eight cents, including the services of architect and superintendent, and amount paid on account of building workshops, ten thousand dollars ($10,000); and the purchase of books for library, five hundred dollars ($500) more; and on account of building new cell house, ($29,412.98) twenty-nine thousand four hundred and twelve dollars and ninety-eight cents, including services of superintendent.

For further information of the financial condition, and otherwise, we would respectfully refer you to the report of the Warden, Mr. Chas. Mayne; and to the minutely detailed report of the Clerk, Mr. John H. Bowes; and of the sanitary condition of the prison, to the Physician, Dr. M. G. Sherman; and for the moral status of the institution, to the report of our estimable Chaplain, John P. Nash.

Respectfully submitted,

R. DYKES,

J. W. BAKER,

CHAS. R. LUTHER,

Directors.

WARDEN'S REPORT.

OFFICE OF THE WARDEN,

NORTHERN INDIANA PRISON,

MICHIGAN CITY, INDIANA, October 31, 1877.

Messrs. R. DYKES, CHAS. R. LUTHER, and J. W. BAKER, Board of Directors of the Northern Indiana Prison:

GENTLEMEN: In accordance with the provision of the laws governing State Prisons, I have the honor to submit my seventh annual report. Under the former existing laws of the State, the officers of the Prison made out their annual reports on the fifteenth of December of each year, but by the act approved March 10, 1877, viz: being "An act making appropriations for the expenses of the government and its institutions; directing the objects to which such appropriations shall be applied; requiring accounts to be kept and reported by the fiscal year of the State, and repealing inconsistent laws;" it changed the time to the thirty-first of October, that being the time established as the end of the fiscal year, and this report is made out to that date, which includes the last quarterly settlement for current expenses September 30, 1877, and all moneys drawn out of the State Treasury during October, on account of officers' salaries and the erection and completion of the new cell-house. The disbursements for current expenses for October 31, 1877, could not be reported, from the fact that they were not examined and approved by the Board of Directors until November 8, 1877, and it was too late to have them audited, as the money would be drawn out of the State Treasury after the end of the fiscal year, therefore they will be reported in the next annual report.

In reference to the details of the financial and statistical condition of the prison, I would respectfully refer you to the report of the Clerk, Mr. John H. Bowes.

From the above statement it shows that the expenditures have exceeded the receipts and earnings of the prison $4,315.45, which, with the amount paid for salaries of officers since April 1, 1877, $3,000.00, making $6,495.45, and with the amount for permanent improvement, repairs and water-work, $819.97, showing a balance that the prison has expended more than the receipts and earnings, of $7,315.45. This deficiency over previous years, is caused by the reduction of the price of convict labor, and the abolishing of overwork made last November, and from unproductive men in prison to the number of about one hundred, from December until April, there being no contract for their labor.

The reason that the balance of earnings has not been paid into the State Treasury is, that the same is due from the contractors, uncollected.

Under the contract made by your honorable Board, and approved by his excellency Governor Williams, May 17, 1877, for the building of two workshops, and for the completion of the north wing of the cell-house, the work has progressed as well as could reasonably be expected. The two shops were completed in September, and the cell-house will be entirely finished by the first to tenth of January. Upon its completion we will be able to accommodate one thousand prisoners, and with some additional shop-room, the same number could advantageously be worked upon contract.

I would therefore recommend you to call the attention of the Governor, that he would recommend to the legislature the propriety of enlarging the prison district by adding one tier of counties south of the National road. I would call your attention to the necessity of a suitable building for the insane, and those that are partially so, and the necessity of such a building is almost indispensable for the discipline of the prison.

We have this summer built a new barn for the prison, that is worth at least $1,200.00, and also built new fences, and repaired old ones, that have cost at least $300.00, besides expending quite a large sum to keep up necessary repairs to the prison buildings.

I am glad to report that we have not lost a prisoner by escape during last year—a very unusual circumstance—when taking into consideration the large number of prisoners, the crowded condition of the prison, and the number worked out on the farm.

In compliance with your instruction, I advertised for sealed proposals for the building of prison sewer until the twenty-second of October. There were six bids received. James McNichols and M. Callaban, being the lowest bidders, the contract was awarded to them, and the work will be completed by the first of January. This improvement has been greatly needed for a long time, and it had become an absolute necessary to have it built for the health and accommodation of the prison.

The sanitary condition of the prison has been good. There have been seven deaths during the past year. For further information I would refer you to Dr. M. G. Sherman, Prison Physician.

I am happy to say that the discipline of the prison has been as good as could be expected under the crowded condition and limited room to handle the men. There have not been any unusual violations of the rules of the prison.

For the moral welfare of the inmates, I would refer you to the report of I. P. Nash, Moral Instructor.

To all the officers of the institution, Amos C. Hall, Deputy Warden, John H. Bowes, Clerk, M. G. Sherman, Physician, John P. Nash, Moral Instructor, Benj. Elliott, Steward, and all the guards, I return my thanks for the very efficient manner in which they have performed the duties entrusted to them.

And to you, gentlemen of the Board, allow me to return my sincere thanks for all the courtesy received at your hands. The intercourse between us has been very cordial, with the exception of the circumstances that have arisen by the difference of opinion in regard to or two three questions of law, which I regret had to be submitted to the courts.

I remain your obedient servant,

CHARLES MAYNE, Warden.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT,
NORTHERN INDIANA STATE PRISON,
MICHIGAN CITY, IND., October 31, 1877.

To the Honorable Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor of submitting to you my first annual report for the year ending October 31, 1877.

Previous to my connection with the prison, and under my predecessor's, Dr. H. A. Stonex, treatment, from December 15, 1876, to March 13, 1877, there were three deaths, viz: George Ashley, age 43 years, died January 14, 1877, from necrosis of lower end of femur; William A. Palmer, age 33 years, died February 23, 1877, from double pneumonia; W. Jones (colored), age 22 years, died March 6, 1877.

From the time of my appointment, March 13, 1877, to October 31, 1877, there have been four deaths, viz: E. Winters, age 67 years, died March 24, 1877, from catarrhal pneumonia. He was in a moribund condition at the commencement of my treatment, having been in the hospital three weeks. William Beeler, age 35 years, died May 9, 1877, from disease of the heart; died suddenly in his cell and before any assistance from the hospital could reach him. An autopsy was made, showing a calcareous deposit at aortic semi-lunar valve. Benjamin Cartwright, age 30 years, died July 8, 1877, from empyema, or formation of pus in thoracic cavity. Previous to his coming here, and while confined in jail, he had been sick two weeks with pneumonia, and died two weeks after entering the hospital. Undoubtedly his removal from jail, and poor hygienic surroundings while in jail, hastened his death. Frank Parker, age 24 years, died September 7, 1877, from congestive chill, during an attack of intermittent fever. He had also received an injury of the solar plexus, in the shop, on the 3d of July, being struck with a board from a saw.

The principal diseases with which the prisoners have been under medical treatment in the hospital, and excused from work during the past year, are as follows: Pneumonia, pleurisy, tuberculosis, bronchitis, quinsy, pharyngitis, dyspepsia, colic, inflammation of the bowels, dysentery, diarrhœa, hemorrhoids, prolapsus ani, hernia and fissure of anus, fistula, hepatic and venal colic, chronic and acute; inflammation of liver and kidneys, heart disease, inflammation of bladder and urethra, intermittent and remittent fevers, epilepsy, insanity, cuts, bruises, burns, and various injuries; also, venereal diseases: syphilis, gonorrhœa and gleet.

The excused lists have been comparatively small during the past year, the health of the prisoners generally being good.

The hygienic condition of the prison is good as will average in most prisons. The supply of food is more abundant than is generally allowed in other institutions of the kind, and it is wholesome and nutritious, and a liberal variety.

I would call the attention of the directors to the poor accommodations for insane prisoners. Neither the cell house nor hospital is the proper place for them, and there ought to be built a building containing about a dozen cells, in the vicinity of the hospital, to confine such persons.

The labor required and done by the prisoners throughout the different workshops is not more than an able-bodied man can do in less than the time allowed.

I would also call your attention to better facilities for bathing.

One great improvement, and which has been much needed to improve the sanitary condition of the prison, is the building (which is in progress now) of a new sewer, and which will have a healthy effect upon the condition of the prison.

In conclusion, I wish to express my thanks for the assistance and co-operation of all the officers of the prison in the discharge of my duties.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,

M. G. SHERMAN,

Prison Physician.

MORAL INSTRUCTOR'S REPORT.

MICHIGAN CITY, October 31, 1877.

To the Honorable Board of Directors of the Northern Indiana Prison:

GENTLEMEN:—It becomes my duty, as Moral Instructor, to submit to you a report of the moral condition of the prison.

We now have six hundred and forty-six convicts, who have come from different parts of the world, charged with almost every degree of crime, and whose terms of service range from one year to a life-time. And considering that these men have come from all grades of society, I am glad to report that the moral condition of the prison will compare favorably with former years. A large per centage are young men. Among these I find many, as also among the more aged convicts, who are tender-hearted, and I believe truly penitnant and sorry for their crimes, and give evidence that they have accepted the offers of salvation, accepted Christ as their Savior, and have become the recipients of the love and favor of God. But oh! so many turn away as though they had no part in Christ or desire for eternal life.

It may be considered by many that a prison is the most unpromising field of labor for the Christian minister. But I find it a pleasant duty to preach the gospel of salvation to these unfortunate men, and I feel greatly rewarded on account of the evidences of success and good cheer that I meet with from time to time.

We have chapel service every Sabbath, when, in addition to the reading of Scriptures, I preach or lecture to the men, ever keeping before them the love of God to man, and man's duties and responsibilities to God. We also have a very interesting Sabbath school, in which quite a number take delight in studying the Scriptures. The number attending the Sabbath school averages about sixty. I think more would attend if the way were properly opened.

In all my labors among the men, I have aimed at their reformation, and I am cheered with the thought that many are going out of the prison with a determination hereafter to be honest citizens and lead useful lives.

The library I found in bad condition. Most of the books were torn or defaced. But on the fourteenth day of June last five hundred dollars in books were added, which, with the donation from different sources of monthly magazines, have greatly improved our library. But allow me to suggest that we are greatly deficient yet in school books, especially dictionaries, geographies and arithmetics. I find myself unable to give anything like satisfaction to the men because of the scarcity of this class of books. And when the new cell-house shall be occupied, we will be greatly deficient in bibles.

Of the men in prison, many could not read or write when they entered. And our facilities for educating the men here are indeed limited, hence they are left to rely mostly upon their own energy and perseverance, aided by what little instruction they can get from a cell-mate, to get any education; yet a few have learned to read, and to write a fair business hand, while others have taken up the study of English grammar and arithmetic.

And now, in conclusion, allow me to express my thanks to the officers in charge of the prison for the courtesy they have shown and the help they have rendered me in my work for the moral reformation of these men.

With best wishes, I am very respectfully yours,

JOHN P. NASH,

Moral Instructor.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH,
JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., December 4, 1877.

To His Excellency,

HON. JAMES D. WILLIAMS,

SIR:—Herewith are submitted the reports of the Warden and officers of this prison, covering the operations of the prison from December 16, 1876, to October 31, 1877.

WARDEN'S REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH,
WARDEN'S OFFICE, ———, 1877.

*To W. P. Hammond, James Keigwin and John W. Linck, Directors
Indiana State Prison South :*

By an act of the last General Assembly, the fiscal year closes with October 31, instead of December 15, as was formerly the case.

The accompanying exhibits and tables show in detail the financial operations of the prison for the ten months ending this date. The business for that portion of the year from December 15, 1876, to March 31, 1877, inclusive, was investigated, and the outstanding indebtedness at the latter date adjusted and paid, by a commission appointed in pursuance of an act of the General Assembly, and by said commission reported to the Governor and Auditor of State.

The appropriations have not been exceeded, and although the number of convicts is rapidly increasing, it is not doubted that the expenditures for the ensuing year may be kept within the amount provided for that term.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. HOWARD,
Warden.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH,

JEFFERSONVILLE, October 31, 1877.

To the Honorable Board of Directors

Of the Indiana State Prison South:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to submit my report as Physician of the Prison, from December 15, 1876, to October 31, 1877.

Of diseases met with in the prison we have venereal in all its types or stages, neuralgia, erysipelas, rheumatism, remittents, intermittents and diarrhœa, have constituted a large percentage, both in the cold and warm seasons.

Owing to the large number of new and constantly changing convicts, employed in the various work-shops, and among so much machinery, accidental injuries have been frequent. Eight deaths have occurred during the year. Two from accidents, two from typhoid fever, one from typho-malarial, one from flux, one from ulceration of the bowels, and one from strangulated hernia.

The health of the inmates is generally good at this time, and the sanitary condition of the prison is good, considering the crowded state of the institution.

I am under obligations to the Warden and his deputy for their active co-operation at all times, in successful efforts to alleviate the sufferings of the afflicted.

Appended you will find a tabulated statement of the cases treated, diagnosis, prescriptions and deaths.

Respectfully,

W. F. SHERROD,

Physician.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH,
CHAPLAIN'S OFFICE, December 15, 1877.

To the Honorable Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN: In accordance with law and custom I herewith submit my report for the current year, regarding the work of this institution coming under my immediate jurisdiction. During the first six months of the year no religious services could be held in the prison chapel, owing to reasons fully set forth in my annual report for 1876; but about the fifteenth of June last arrangements were made that obviated the necessity for longer using the chapel as a sleeping apartment, and it was restored to its legitimate use, since which time we have held weekly religious services, including a Sabbath school each Sabbath morning. Preparations are now nearing completion for the establishment of a day and night school for the benefit of such prisoners as the Warden may judge proper to admit, and we anticipate much good to result from its establishment. In fact, we began this school October 10, and carried it on quite successfully until the cold weather interfered, when, owing to some needed repairs and a more thorough preparation, it was temporarily suspended; but, as above stated, we hope soon to resume.

In connection with my labors here I have to acknowledge the very efficient aid received from missionaries from New Albany and Jeffersonville, who have been faithful in their attendance upon our religious services, and have in our Sabbath school labored diligently to impart to the unfortunate men confined here sound religious instruction. Especially are we under obligations to Mr. Small in furnishing for the use of the men from one hundred to one hundred and fifty copies of the Christian Observer, which is justly considered by many of them as a great boon.

In referring to the condition of the prison library, I may say that it is somewhat improved since my last report, inasmuch as that four hundred and forty-three (443) volumes have been added to it, at a cost of three hundred and one dollars and eighty-five cents ($301.85); also one hundred Bibles at a cost of sixty-three dollars ($63), and one hundred and eighty-two (182) school books at a cost of twenty-five dollars and twenty cents ($25.20); being a part of the appropriation ($500) of the last Legislature for the benefit of the library.

In conclusion I beg to express my sincere thanks to the Warden and his efficient Deputy for their uniform courtesy and kindness toward myself, in their earnest co-operation and assistance in all pertaining to the duties of my position; also to the subordinate officers for the same marks of consideration.

And now, gentlemen, allow me to return to you my heartfelt thanks for your many and uniform expressions of considerate regard. May He who doeth all things wisely watch over and protect you, and aid you in your endeavors for the welfare of this institution.

H. E. BORING,
Chaplain.
